This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

The Clerk requested the Hon. Alonzo D. Herrick, of Warren county, the Hon. John E. Gill, of Mercer county, and the Hon. George S. Hobart, of Essex county, to act as a committee to escort the Speaker to the bar of the House, where the oath was administered to him by Judge John B. Kates, of Camden county.

The committee then escorted the Speaker to the chair.

Mr. Wolverton, upon taking the chair, addressed the members as follows:

FELLOW MEMBERS:

In accepting the honor which you have so generously conferred upon me, it is needless to say that I am profoundly grateful. As I enter upon the discharge of the duties of the office of Speaker, I am deeply conscious of the responsibilities that are necessarily incident to it, and assure you that it will be my constant concern to meet those responsibilities in a manner that will show my appreciation of the confidence you have had in me.

While my selection has been primarily due to the action of the majority, yet I am not unmindful of the kind expressions of good will that have been extended to me by many of those among the minority, whose friendship I cherish, and whose good will I will constantly endeavor to merit.

In the work of the House the greatest good can be accomplished by a spirit of co-operation and a realization upon the part of each member that while we may differ in our political affiliations, yet in the final analysis our responsibilities are the same.

If we permit our judgment and our actions to be guided by motives of petty partisanship, or selfish considerations of a local or individual character, the chances of our accomplishing any real good are greatly diminished. If, however, the actuating motive at all times shall be a sincere desire to act for the best interests of the State and its citizens, then we can naturally expect to show results that will not only bring honor to this body, but receive the commendation of those whom we represent.

While it is generally recognized that the party in power is charged with the responsibility of redeeming party pledges and promises and the enactment of its policies into law, yet there is no reason why the minority should not share in these responsibilities, if they so desire, and thereby merit the approbation and appreciation of that large portion of our citizenship who at all times consider results far more important than maintaining party lines.

Already many of the policies advocated by the majority party in its effort to establish a business government for the State, insure financial stability and promote the general welfare in a broad and comprehensive way, have been enacted into law and have received the unqualified endorsement of our citizenship. The work of the present session will therefore be very largely a continuation and extension of those principles in accordance with the invitation and desire of the people as expressed at the last general election.

Principles such as these call for the support of all who have the public good at heart. They are not partisan in any sense, and can only become such by the refusal of the minority to join with the majority in their enactment. As there has been, and very properly so, a willingness to eliminate party lines at Washington, and to stand by the President and accept his policies in all matters that have pertained to the national welfare, so the people of the State have a right to expect that there shall be the same willingness, upon the part of the minority at Trenton, to eliminate party lines and stand by and support Governor Edge in all measures that seek to make effective his nonpartisan policies, and promote the general good of the State.

Another matter that I desire to bring to your attention is the universal demand for a short session. It is no new demand, but comes this year with additional force and based upon conditions that cannot and should not be denied. We are living in times the like of which no man hath ever seen—times that truly try men's souls. We are engaged in the greatest struggle of all time, a struggle that is great, not only because of the number of nations involved or the men engaged, but because of the principles involved, "the peace of the world" and "the liberation of its peoples." The time, attention, influence and effort of every one is, or at least should be, taken up with questions and activities pertaining to this great conflict, and the only important business at this time is to win the war. All else is secondary. We therefore owe it to ourselves, our constituents, and our State, to finish this session at the earliest possible moment in order that nothing should unnecessarily detract from or diminish the activities and the assistance that we owe to the national government in this hour of emergency. I, therefore, very earnestly and sincerely trust that you will accept this suggestion of a short session in the spirit of patriotism, that knows no party lines, and then the joy and honor of its accomplishment can be shared by all.

The work of the House can be accelerated, and a short session accomplished, without interfering with the due consideration of proper legislation, by the observance of the following suggestions: (1) The early introduction of contemplated legislation, and only that which is important and for which there seems to be a real and genuine necessity; (2) a prompt and thorough investigation of all bills by the respective committees and the favorable report to the House of only those that are truly meritorious; (3) a strict observance of the order of business as established by the rules, and the elimination of needless and unnecessary talking, debates, and dilatory tactics upon the floor of the House where the object is merely to maintain or advance party prestige, or manufacture political capital; (4) realizing that delay either upon the part of the Speaker or the members in meeting promptly at the time fixed for the convening of the session results in the loss of much valuable time, the Speaker assures the members most emphatically of his intention to call the sessions to order promptly, and trusts that the members will likewise appreciate the importance of meeting on time and the good results that can be obtained thereby.

Permit me to venture a few words upon the importance of the work to be performed by the several committees. The members of the House are called upon to vote upon several hundred bills in the course of the session. It can very readily be seen what a vast task it is, for the one who desires to vote intelligently upon each measure, to become familiar with the provisions and effect of each. Therefore the bills are referred to committees for investigation and thought. Every member of the House has a right to assume that the action of a committee in withholding a bill, or reporting it favorably or unfavorably, is the result of careful study and consideration. It is therefore suggested to the several committees that unusual care and discretion be exercised during this session, that only useful measures be brought to the attention of the House, and that unnecessary or improper measures be withheld in order that our time may be conserved, and the possibility of a short session thereby advanced.

In making assignments to the various committees I have been greatly distressed because of my inability to grant all of the requests that have been made. I also regret exceedingly that I have not had a more intimate acquaintance with the new members, especially upon the Democratic side, and it may be that for this reason I have not always placed a member where upon more intimate acquaintance I would have found him rightly to belong. I trust, however, that each shall accept his assignments with a desire to serve, and pardon the mistakes your Speaker may possibly have made.

There are other matters that I might properly speak of, but I trust that this session shall be one of action rather than words, and in order to set an example in this regard and make brevity the keynote, I conclude my remarks by again thanking you for the honor you have conferred, and the pleasure it affords me to join hands with you in the accomplishment of our common purpose, trusting that I may have the benefit of your co-operation, support and assistance at all times, and that the same spirit may find expression between yourselves as individual members, believing that thereby much can be done that will reflect honor upon the House, and cause this session not only to be characterized as the shortest and most business-like in the history of the State, but also the greatest in the accomplishment of things worth while.

And throughout the session, as necessity requires or opportunity permits, let us never forget that these are times that require an absolute elimination of party lines and distinctions in all that pertains to the national welfare or seeks to promote the well-being of those of our citizens who have answered the call and are already serving beneath the flag. In all such matters there is need for only one party and that is the great American party, with no emblem other than the flag we love and revere.

It is a time when we should remember that the God of our fathers is our God, and that our present duty is to stand by the Government at Washington, sustain and support that servant of the people and of the Most High God, who as President of the United States is patiently, silently, and carefully guiding the great ship of state through troubled waters, and by singleness of purpose and unity of action make the whole world vocal with American loyalty to the American Government.

At the suggestion of Mr. Pierson, the members arose and sang the national anthem, "America."

The Speaker announced the appointment of Walter L. Tushingham, of Camden county, as his Secretary, and of Albert E. Burling, of Camden county, as his Assistant Secretary.

Mr. Pierson offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted:

Resolved, That the House do now proceed with the election of Clerk of the House.

Mr. Paul N. Litchfield, of Camden county, placed in nomination Upton S. Jefferys, of the same county, for Clerk of the House.

Mr. Alexander Simpson, of Hudson county, seconded the nomination of Mr. Jefferys.

Upon the roll being called by the Assistant Clerk, Mr. Jefferys was elected by the following vote:

For. Mr. Jefferys—

Messrs. Abbott, Agans, Allinson, Applegate, Badgley, Blair, Bostock, Burroughs, Champion, Close, Cochran, Dugan, Eaton, Edgar, Fooder, Foxhall, Gaede, Gallagher, Gill, Glover, Hagaman, Hanley, Herrick, Hershfield, Hirchberg, Hobart, Hurley, Kellam, Lake, Lewis, Litchfield, Lord, Marzulli, McAteer, McGovern, Morgan, Nolan, Pierson, Pruden, Read, Reeves, Roberts, Robinson, Rogers, Schneider, Simpson, Smith, Snow, Stewart, Stout, Tattersall, Vreeland, Warner, Whitney, Wilson, Winne, Wolverton (Speaker), Yarrow, Young—59.

The Speaker declared Upton S. Jefferys, of Camden county, elected Clerk of the House of Assembly.

Mr. Jefferys thereupon took and subscribed to the oath of office.

Mr. Pierson offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted:

Resolved, That the Speaker appoint forthwith a committee of three to wait upon the Governor and inform him that the House of Assembly has organized by the election as Speaker of the Hon. Charles A. Wolverton, of Camden county, and of Upton S. Jefferys, of Camden county, as Clerk, and is now ready to proceed to business and to receive any communication he may be pleased to make.

In accordance with the above resolution, the Speaker appointed Messrs. Whitney, Simpson and Glover as such committee.

Mr. Pierson offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted:

Resolved, That the Clerk of the House is hereby directed to inform the Senate that the House of Assembly has organized by the election as Speaker of the Hon. Charles A. Wolverton, of Camden county, and of Upton S. Jefferys, of Camden county, as Clerk, and has proceeded to business.

Mr. Pierson offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted:

Resolved, That the House proceed to fill the remaining several offices of the House, and that nominations be made and a vote taken for all of the offices at one and the same time.

On a viva voce vote being taken, the Speaker declared the amendment offered by Mr. Simpson lost.

Mr. Pierson moved the adoption of the original resolution, which motion was adopted.

Mr. Pierson offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted:

Resolved, That the privilege of the floor be granted to the Hon. Joseph Carroll, a former member of this House from Hudson county.

A message was received from the Governor, by the hands of his Secretary, as follows:

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

GENTLEMEN OF THE LEGISLATURE:

You are about to write final chapters of the story of how our State Government was made an active partner with industrial, commercial and human energy in the development of New Jersey's wonderful natural resources. It will be a vitally interesting story. It will record the task of bringing a State Government, a vague thing as usually viewed, nearer to the people. Not the operation of an experimental laboratory of democracy, but simple adherence to the old compound of ordinary business principles will be the general theme. The story will picture government, not as frequently portrayed, a deterrent to individual initiative and enterprise, but as a helpful agency of coöperation. Its pages will show government operating in concert with accepted business customs of directness, dispatch, economy and efficiency, rather than in accord with partisan habits of lost motion, procrastination, extravagance and mismanagement. You will feel a sense of pride as factors primarily responsible for a rearrangement of public affairs which will have enabled the State household fully to measure up to the limitless opportunities of New Jersey, thoroughy to mine the rich ore of its undeveloped assets, smoothly to coöperate with the Federal Government in that greater national growth and position to which New Jersey is entitled by the importance of its geographical situation and its commercial advantages among the States of the Union.

FUTURE POSSIBILITIES OF PRESENT WATERFRONT DEVELOPMENT.

It is essential to get the proper atmosphere in order to keep the objectives of a business form of State Government ever before us. Therefore, I ask your indulgence while I defer for a moment reference to immediate legislative needs and digress to the possibilities of the future New Jersey, to the entirely plausible results in years to come of progressive steps already undertaken or in process of incubation. For instance, the creation of the New York–New Jersey Port and Harbor Development Commission, constituting the first step in the National partnership in big things of New York and New Jersey.

To-day this body is serving the Federal Government, along with Cabinet officers and other executives, as the War Board of the Port of New York. Already the Federal War Department is spending millions on the acquisition and reclamation of thousands of practically idle acres on the Raritan River and Newark Bay so that they may be transformed into gigantic port terminals calculated, eventually, of course, to expand New Jersey commercially and industrially at the same time as such projects relieve congestion at the Port of New York, the National institution, and supply a very positive war-time need. Does not this reveal the splendid opportunity of capitalizing our waterfront assets, not merely as a war expediency, but under all conditions?

FACILITIES NEED OF THE HOUR.

With necessary Federal coöperation, cultivation can be given to New Jersey's commercial and industrial soil that will produce a harvest of benefit to the whole country. Opportunity in the past found us sleeping at the switch. We are obliged to ask housewives and business men and shopkeepers to save at the spigot because there has been all manner of waste at the bung of neglected opportunity. The present conflict has revealed past folly. Lack of facilities—of transportation, of shipbuilding and the like—constitutes one of the chief obstacles that the Government must overcome in the war. New Jersey, with her numerous waterfronts, such as the Raritan, Hackensack, Passaic and Delaware Rivers and Newark, New York and Delaware Bays, is ready to provide them with Federal encouragement. For miles and miles north of the Passaic and Raritan Rivers the greatest industrial centre in the East, honeycombed with railroads and rivers emptying into the harbor, nearly surrounded by valuable waterfront still largely undeveloped and situated on the seaboard at the greatest gateway for the world's commerce, New Jersey is the logical architect of those facilities which form the keystone of the Nation's mighty arch of progress and success. Facilities, facilities, and more facilities, should be the aim of government with a broad vision.

I know of the opinion which counsels that public improvement be deferred until the war is ended. Frankly, I don't agree with it. The more facilities and producing power at home the stronger we shall be in the trench. France is pushing her great railroad tunnels through the mountains amid the very din of battle. A nation is like a business in that if it does not go forward it goes backward; there is no standing still. Expense in this connection is mostly a ghost of popular prejudice, for when you capitalize assets, whether of a State or of an individual, you don't waste money, you make money. Neglect to do so is simply lost opportunity, which in great part can never be regained.

OWNERSHIP OF COMMERCIAL WATERFRONT.

To illustrate, when North Jersey's commercial and industrial facilities are increased, a market is created for the agricultural products of Central and South Jersey; consequently the latter sections are well able to bear their share of the first cost securing those facilities. Again, I take it that one of the ultimate results—of course, not this year or the next—of port development work, will be the acquisition of the State's valuable commercial waterfront within the limits of the Port of New York, now in the hands of individuals. While it would require considerable money to finance this, yet a plan to lease it back to present owners or lessees and develop it uniformly along modern lines, meeting present and future demands for waterfront facilities, would unquestionably result in such a vast increase in taxable ratables that first cost would very shortly dwindle in the relative proportion to State-wide benefits derived.

MILLIONS IN NEW RIPARIAN POLICY.

And while considering the financial aspect it is most interesting to reflect on the effect of a progressive waterfront or commercial policy in relation to the State's determination hereafter to lease riparian lands instead of granting them in fee or leasing with conversionary rights. This radical, but I may say businesslike, change in riparian land administration, was agreed upon some months ago, and I urge that the Legislature provide at this session any further measures which may be deemed necessary to give the leasing plan force and effect. The future of the new and sound policy is fraught with business possibilities. To-day there are nearly one thousand miles of desirable water frontage for industrial and other uses in this State not yet sold. These lands are estimated to represent a present value of approximately $22,740,800.00. I take it that seven per cent. of estimated value would be a fair basis for fixing rental; or in other words, if all riparian lands, instead of being given away in fee at small sale price for the most part fixed by the standards of undeveloped property were to be leased to-day, the State's annual rental from this source would approximate $1,591,856.00. This contemplates a demand for all available riparian lands, which, of course, is a condition that the future must determine. But think of the marvelous possibilities lying back of the joint enterprises of riparian right conservation and waterfront development! Is it too much to say that in fifty or a hundred years, by reason of intensive development, our waterfront will increase in value a thousand per cent., approximating $227,408,000.00 and bringing in annually a rental of $15,918,560.00? Similar increases in value during a period even shorter have not been infrequent in seashore resorts and certain industrial sections. There is nothing visionary about this prospect of rental from a single State source exceeding the present gross receipts of State funds from every source, a sum now of approximately $12,917,658.00. It is a simple business proposition. Riparian lands have an uncertain value which counsels against giving them away. Our waterfront is there to be developed. If a sound policy of conservation is combined with constructive energy and enterprise, the result is bound to be such that the bugaboo of a State property tax for general purposes will fade into space forever and those who doubt the necessity of spending money in order to make money will lose their skepticism.

PRESENT NEEDS—BRIEF, BUSINESSLIKE SESSION.

I shall now address you on present needs, rather than the possibilities of wise development.

Much has been accomplished. The foundation and superstructure of a business government are in place; now we must turn out the finished product. Legislation which is still necessary in order to fully carry out the program can, I confidently believe, be secured during the next seven or eight weeks. You gentlemen are desirous of applying businesslike principles to the technical machinery of the Legislature as you are to the balance of the government of the State, and I need scarcely call your attention to the imperative necessity of a brief, accurate legislative session. Businesslike law-making is of the essence of business government.

RIVER TRAFFIC PROJECTS.

Commissions to supervise the construction of a traffic bridge over the Delaware River, connecting New Jersey and Pennsylvania, and a tunnel under the Hudson River, connecting New Jersey and New York, have been established, appointed and organized. It is plainly necessary that an adequate system of financing these improvements now be provided. Commissions in charge of these projects have agreed that they are very properly regarded as extensions of the State Highway System, now in course of construction, and in accordance with this view I call your attention to the fact that any State-wide tax imposed for the purpose of financing the river traffic improvements should not be levied until after taxes sufficient to finance the road system completely have been levied. In other words, in order to avoid duplication, excessive taxation and as a matter of ordinary business judgment, taxation for the purpose of meeting the cost of the river traffic construction should not begin until about four years hence, when the highway overland system shall have been financed. In the meantime it becomes necessary to negotiate and conclude details of construction with the States to be so connected, and, following that, to decide mutually on engineering plans. If, when this is all complete, succeeding legislatures believe through existing conditions that the tax should be brought forward, that is a matter of simple legislative action. The bills recommended provide the method. Of necessity future legislatures must decide on the time. General Goethals, the State Engineer, has estimated the cost of the two river traffic improvements at $24,000,000.00, which makes New Jersey's share $12,000,000.00, or less than the cost of the highway system. These figures, considered in a comparative way, indicate what possibilities exist for developing and capitalizing the natural resources of New Jersey, through a businesslike and equitable method of financing, without imposing any sudden or severe burden upon property or people. I confidently believe that after the road construction has progressed for a year or more the payment plan will be found so eminently fair and easy to sustain and the benefits of good roads so great and plainly visible that the State will be not only willing, but eager, for further expansion along the same lines.

STATE INSTITUTIONS—PENAL, CORRECTIONAL AND OTHERWISE.

A commission has worked for the past year investigating penal and correctional institutions of the State with a view to their permanent betterment. Another commission has similarly labored with regard to State institutions other than penal and correctional. Now, it is of paramount importance that legislation be enacted, based upon the reports submitted by these two commissions, designed to centralize responsibility and thus remedy ills of administration, management and control and to solve, in a practical way, the problems of prison labor and institutional economy and efficiency. At least two successful experiments with reformatory labor in this State must act as a stimulus to the latter task. One, the building of the Georgetown-Wrightstown road, leading to Camp Dix, and the other the cultivation of State-owned land in Hunterdon County, which resulted in a farm output upon which a net profit of $10,000.00 was realized.

OBLIGATIONS AT HOME.

There is very good reason why we should pay particular attention to the betterment of our State institutions during this period of stress. The war in which we are engaged is one for liberty, independence and civilization. While we are fighting for these things in a fundamental, world-wide sense, we cannot afford to neglect vital and important interests such as the support of charities at home, and the proper care of helpless ones within our borders. Special efforts must be made to provide better facilities and more relief for dependents, and I know of no more effective way to bring this about than through the reorganization of our institutional system along businesslike lines. The war will end some day. Then we will need experienced, coördinated eleemosynary activities in order to effectively and economically cope with conditions.

Pertinent to this is the thought that perhaps our law should be more considerate of those unfortunates born out of wedlock. I have thought that a plan whereby such children would be made the lawful issue of the father for the purpose of inheritance and the father prohibited from cutting them off by will or from property of which he shall have become seized during their minority, would not be out of harmony with the principles of justice. Of course, such a plan should also contain very effective safeguards against blackmail. That is a detail. The important thing is that something practical be done to protect the innocent in illegitimacy.

CIVIL SERVICE REFORM.

Efficiency experts have been inquiring into the conditions and regulations surrounding State and municipal employees under the direction of a new Civil Service Commission established with a view to making progress in this important detail of the State's business. A report will be submitted to you dealing with the standardization of salaries, qualifications, hours of employment and rules for promotion in the service, and I urge that legislation be enacted conscientiously following the recommendations thus made in the interest of a merit system that will sturdily withstand all corrupting influences. The legislation should be broad enough to encourage efficiency in State service by providing an equal opportunity for all. As a means of meeting a very positive condition, the necessity for higher wages and salaries in order to meet the unusual cost of living must enter into this question, not as a part of our fixed relations between the State and its employees, but as a temporary expedient. I believe the solution lies in a percentage bonus, granted in the budget from year to year until the living crisis is over. In the meantime employees should be properly classified through the contemplated standardization plan.

FUNDAMENTAL CHANGE IN FINANCIAL POLICY.

Financial methods in the State business require the same constant attention that they receive in the sound private business. It is important that they be made to conform to those standards which the lessons of experience teach. You know of the present prosperous condition of the Treasury. Despite large sums of money advanced to the Federal Government and also the continually increasing cost of operating all business establishments, private or public, the State Treasury showed a clear, net balance at the end of the fiscal year in October last of $2,458,591.28, which was $602,287.41 in excess of the balance over and above all obligations of $1,856,303.87 the year previous, and six hundred and fifty per cent. more than the public purse at the end of the next previous administration of 1913. Our income in November and December last, the first two months of the current year, shows an increase of one hundred per cent. over the same two months of 1916. We can boast of a larger free balance in the Treasury to-day than at any time within the history of the State. Many precautions are being taken, nevertheless, to conserve the public funds and to make the State's business a profitable business. Departmental heads and commissions, sitting frequently as a board of directors, exchange with the Executive helpful views looking to efficiency and good of the service. The State House Commission, meeting frequently, has already set in motion plans for strict economy in stationery, postage, telephone and telegraph charges and other common sources of neglect and waste in the State offices. Much progress has been made. Yet there must be no tempering of the vigilance. I feel very strongly the necessity for legislation providing that all revenue-earning departments, boards, commissions and institutions of the State, instead of applying this revenue to maintenance or other expenses, as now provided, shall turn the money into the State Treasury, where it will be checked out when and for such purposes only as appropriations authorized in the usual way may provide. My view is that this will be found a more economical, as, of course, it is a more businesslike, method.

TAXATION.

The question of taxation or rather its inequalities is becoming, as governmental costs ascend, more and more serious.

Money, of course, must be raised for these purposes, but careful research and inquiry should be made to equalize the burden. It is my conviction that every department of the State government should give careful thought to the possibility of making consistent and proper charges for services rendered to the public, that those especially benfited by State activities should pay for such service, and thus a State government would distribute the tax burden where it more properly belongs, instead of the hit-or-miss plan of too much general and property tax. This is the natural outcome of a business government, and is a subject I have already opened with various departments and is already well developed in the Department of Labor. I shall have more to suggest on this subject later.

CHANGING THE FISCAL YEAR.

As a proposition to bring about more intelligent State financing, I invite your attention to the suggestion that our fiscal year for the State be changed so that it will begin on July first rather than November first, as now. There are several reasons which strongly commend such a change. First the Executive and legislators could provide for a budget with better knowledge of conditions as they will exist during the time that the funds are needed, and therefore with far greater intelligence, if the money were to be expended at a period beginning within a short time after the close of the average legislative session, rather than practically six months or a year hence. Secondly, some of the appropriations which the Administration is called upon to authorize are for the purpose of constructing new buildings in connection with State institutions, and manifestly it is almost impossible to judge a year in advance, not only of what the needs of institutions will be with reference to additional facilities, but also to judge the amount of money which will be required for building constructions; and consideration must be given to the fact that considerable time is necessary in order to prepare specifications and plans and arrange for actual building even after an appropriation is authorized. Again, with a fiscal year beginning July 1st, the anomaly of the legislators providing for the expenses of the State government during a period when they are not in charge of the government is, to a large extent, avoided. Such a fiscal year would run concurrently with the present school fiscal year and also with the Federal fiscal year. I respectfully recommend legislation to this end, and am discussing this and other financial changes in more detail in my message accompanying the budget.

EXTENDED HOME RULE AND LOCAL OPTION.

Last year the Legislature greatly extended the power of home rule in the municipalities of our State and thus relieved future legislatures of much detail labor. At the same time, as a result of providing this broader jurisdiction in law-making to municipalities, a mass of statutes thereby rendered useless were repealed. There should be further legislation along these identical lines this year. New Jersey municipalities are capable of the fullest measure of home rule, and it is sheer waste of time and energy to oblige municipalities, which term includes counties as well, to apply to the Legislature every time it is desired to take action which the municipalities are entirely capable of taking on their own initiative and which is in harmony with constitutional principles. In addition, the home rule principle must be extended to the excise question in order that municipalities which are entrusted with self-government in other matters may also be entrusted with self-government in the matter of liquor licenses; and, following the Republican party's pledge to the people, I urge the passage of a four-square local option bill. It will be wise in this connection to give careful consideration to regulation in the matter of excise privileges as well. In this way, where a municipality votes under the home rule principle for excise, some further control could likewise be secured.

MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT—CITY MANAGER PLAN.

Closely associated with home rule legislation is the subject of municipal government generally. New Jersey has a commission government act, and this has been adopted by a number of cities which have found the new form of government a vast improvement over the old councilmanic, or representative form. The only criticism I hear does not counsel going back to the old form, but rather extending the commission principle. For instance, it is contended, first, that the very small commission made necessary by the fact that individual members of the governing body act as heads of departments, gives the city often a smaller board than is necessary to secure representation of all of the elements of the city; and, secondly, that the commission plan providing no adequate executive, because of the fact that every commissioner is supreme in his own department, inter-departmental conflicts are likely to arise, especially over appropriations, the interests of the city as a whole often suffering because each department is pulling for itself. The remedy suggested in connection with this criticism is the so-called City Manager plan, whereby the commission itself, which in that case need not be limited to three or five members, instead of distributing its power among its own members for administrative purposes, acts only in a legislative capacity and controls administration through a single appointive executive—City Manager—who in turn controls the various departments of the city government. Of course, no such State-wide legislation would be necessary if home rule legislation were sufficiently flexible to permit cities to have the City Manager plan by special home rule charters, as in the case of California, Colorado and Arizona. However, I am here referring to the subject, not with any special recommendation, but merely with the idea that it may be found desirable for this matter to have our mutual attention. Laws permitting the adoption of the City Manager form are in operation now in Massachusetts, Virginia, Ohio, Kansas, Idaho, Montana, South Dakota and North Carolina. It is not a mere experiment in theory, and I am heartily in favor of permitting cities to adopt any form of government which meets local conditions and local wishes. Self-government is the secret of good government.

NECESSITY FOR RURAL POLICE.

For years in this State the issue of a State-directed and controlled police system has been a football of politics. No doubt this has been due largely to the popular impression, gained years ago, that a State Constabulary, so-called, could mean nothing else but an organization instituted by the Government for the purpose of bulldozing and roughriding Labor in its controversies with Capital. There never was a time in the history of the State when rural police protection was more imperatively necessary than it is to-day, and it seems to me that it is our duty to face this question courageously, regardless of the consequences of popular misunderstanding, and to invite citizens to look upon the subject not as a conspiracy against any particular class, but without prejudice and traditional opposition as one of vital concern to many sections and all interests in New Jersey.

New Jersey is a thickly populated State. Its problems are both similar to and different from those of Pennsylvania and New York. The rapidly increasing population in suburban sections—that is beyond town and city limits—needs protection to-day more than ever because of the abnormal conditions. Unfortunate instances which have occurred both before and since the beginning of war strongly indicate this necessity. Industrial plants and industrial sections likewise require such protection, in addition to the local communities, because of the fact that our manufacturers are turning out many of the supplies needed by the Government and her Allies for the war. Local police forces are necessarily inadequate for this function because of the location of many plants outside of city limits. I am frank to say that I believe a properly regulated and directed State Police Force can be established under wisely formulated legislative regulations and restrictions, which will be adequate to provide such proper protection and yet not be subject to such abuses as are commonly anticipated and against which the public is amply warranted in demanding safeguards. It is the duty of the Legislature to provide some practical method of rural police protection under State control. The form which this should take is a matter for legislative consideration.

ELIMINATION OF TOLL BRIDGES.

The task of eliminating toll bridges, which are undemocratic and relics of a past day, should be continued vigorously, and to this end it is the duty of the Legislature to continue the Commission appointed for the purpose and to see that it is sufficiently equipped with funds for the work.

CORPORATION LAW REVISION.

With a view to further attracting legitimate business to New Jersey, and yet taking care not to open the doors to corporate fraud, there should be an additional modification of our existing corporation laws. The last Legislature found that New Jersey, entirely without reason, was limping under corporation restrictions which did not conform at all to the Clayton Act of the Federal Government, thus creating an atmosphere of business uncertainty and penalizing the State unnecessarily. This was remedied. Since then other defects have been found and these should likewise be remedied to the end that New Jersey may offer a hospitable field for legitimate business while not forfeiting any of the safeguards against frenzied and unscrupulous financiers.

STATE'S ATTITUDE TOWARD BUSINESS.

I submit, as a general proposition, that the attitude of a State government toward business corporations should be judicial. By that I mean it should be fair, sound, dispassionate, free alike from the sinister influences of organized capital corrupted and the destructive prejudices of that school which misjudges all corporation business by the abuses of some. We should consider that corporations, large and small, are feeling the pinch of the high cost of living, of materials and of labor in the same degree as individual business men. Moreover, wise public regulation prevents certain classes of corporations from arbitrarily shifting the burden of higher costs to the shoulders of the ultimate consumer as unregulated business is doing. Conditions today are no respectors of business because it is big. We must keep our minds open, therefore, and be as ready to assist the corporation business, especially under State regulation, in the solution of financial economies and other emergency problems, as we are the small business or the consumer or patron not under State or Federal control. Perhaps such an attitude will require courage since it flies in the face of popular prejudice. But there is not a single interest in a community which may be unjustly penalized without the injury spreading to other interests. Popular prejudice is a contagious disease. One function of sound government is to equalize the poison by adopting the square deal policy.

LIMIT ON AMOUNT AND USE OF CAMPAIGN EXPENDITURES.

Wanton waste of money in political campaigns demands immediate legislative attention. New Jersey's Corrupt Practices Act is effective as far as it goes, but it does not go far enough. True, a candidate is limted in his expenses, and his committee must give an accounting of moneys received and disbursed, but the loophole is found in the fact that there is nothing to prevent a candidate's friends from spending as much as they like in his behalf. This opportunity for circumvention has led to excessive campaign extravagances in the past, from all political sides. Unless promptly curbed these are apt to lead to money corruption and a popular contempt for the ballot. I respectfully suggest that the remedy be applied through an amendment to the Corrupt Practices Act, further restricting contributions and also the uses to which they may be put in political propaganda. Such restrictions should be upon the candidate's friends as well as upon the candidate himself, and an expenditure of money by them in excess of the legal limit should have the effect of rendering the expendor liable for a misdemeanor and likewise forfeiting the right of the candidate to take office, in all cases except where there was evidence of a conspiracy to violate the law deliberately to keep a political opponent out of office. In other words, the expenditure of more than a certain amount in the interest of a candidate or party, no matter who spends it, should be prohibited. My thought is that $25,000.00 in a State candidacy and $5,000.00 in a county candidacy would be regarded as a fair maximum to be contributed in total by the candidate and by his friends in his behalf. Certainly such sums would not be found inadequate if the uses to which campaign money is put were further regulated. Intelligent newspaper advertisements, discussion of issues at public meetings and personal mailed appeals are far more effective than gaudy billboard posters, meaningless pictures on telegraph poles or the popularly ignored circular that litters the front yard. The latter methods should be absolutely prohibited in an amendment to the Corrupt Practices Act, which amendment would prove more effective than the so-called highway-marring bill of the last session. When the law supervises or circumscribes campaign expenditures in a practical way it will be found possible to limit campaign expenditures to sums within reason and within the price of the average man. Then again, it would prove a great deterrent if campaign expenditures were published before a primary and an election instead of afterward. In simultaneous action on both propositions, therefore, lies the solution.

REDUCING ELECTION OPERATING EXPENSES.

I think everyone agrees that considerable money can be saved on the actual physical operation of elections. The suggestion has been made that a long step in this direction could be taken by arrangement to conduct elections in public schoolhouses. In addition to the saving of expense of rental, such a proposition would tend to heighten the tone of elections, removing them further from degrading environment and placing them on the plane conceived by the framers of the Constitution. Elections are strictly of an educational character, the fundamentals of civil government, and I cannot imagine a more proper use for a public school building on a day that is by law a legal holiday. It seems to me that it is the duty of the Legislature to seek counsel of public school administrators in the State for the purpose of finding out how these arrangements may be made in a practical and satisfactory way.

If our experience with public school buildings as polling places were to be found satisfactory, the next logical step would be to secure the services of our public school teaching forces as election officers, of course with compensation additional to that granted for teaching duties. I fail to see anything inconsistent or impractical in commandeering the brains and training of our public school instructors in the highly important task of honestly conducting our elections and accurately interpreting our complex election laws.

Further election law changes I propose discussing in a later message.

AMPLIFICATION OF COMPENSATION LAW.

As conditions change, the necessity of paying constant attention to our Workmen's Compensation Act and its practical operation will be recognized. The Compensation Bureau established in the Department of Labor should be clothed with power to decide disputes, rather than merely persuade toward compromise and thus sometimes fail to avoid needless and costly litigation. Furthermore, there is need of legislation looking to the interests of the State with reference to the disposition of compensation in the case of the death of persons without dependents or known beneficiaries. In fact, this is only reasonable. Unlike most States, the insurance carriers are not required to compete with a State Insurance Fund, but practically all the business of the State is divided among them with a supervision of rates by the rating bureau. The adjustment of claims arising under the operation of the Workmen's Compensation Law is certainly a part of the necessary administration of this act, and in my judgment it appears to be a reasonable and proper charge to be divided among the insurance carriers and self-insurers operating in the State. Under the operation of the act, where a worker dies without dependents the only charge upon the carrier is for funeral expenses in the amount of $100.00. If a law were enacted which would require the payment of the sum of $400.00 in addition to the burial charges, by the insurance carrier, or self-insurer, into the Treasury of the State where a worker dies under these circumstances a sufficient sum would be raised thereby to defray the entire expenses of the Workmen's Compensation Aid Bureau, and at the same time the insurance carrier or self-insurer would have been required to pay $1,100.00 less than would have been the case if the worker had only one dependent.

LABOR DEPARTMENT REVENUE.

There are a number of other features connected with the activities of the Department of Labor which it would appear reasonable to consider as a charge against concerns immediately affected. For instance, I believe a fee ought to be required for special engineering service involving the approval of plans for new, or alterations to old, factory buildings, and also for certificates of approval for work performed by contractors which require additional time for reinspection. Such a policy, I am informed, would yield about $8,000.00 additional revenue annually. Again there is a genuine need for legislation requiring the inspection of boilers within a reasonable classification and this work should be performed on a fee basis in sufficient amount to make a revenue large enough to defray expenses of the work.

Revenue derived from the licensing of engineers and firemen besides the proposed legislation for boiler inspection; the proposed revenue to be derived from the approval of plans and certificates of approval of work to be performed; and the revenue derived under the proposed method of administrating the workmen's compensation laws and other sources of income such as the licensing of explosive magazines, should make a total of about $95,000.00 per year out of a total Labor Department appropriation of $150,000.00. This would certainly seem to be in line with a businesslike administration of the State's affairs.

HEALTH INSURANCE SYSTEM.

I desire to call your attention to the fact that a legislative commission appointed to investigate social insurance problems in New Jersey has reported in favor of this State adopting and organizing a comprehensive system of health insurance. In my judgment this question is on a par with workmen's compensation insurance and it fully deserves your most careful consideration. The amazing number of army rejections on account of physical disability, as well as other conditions, emphasize the increasing demand of industry upon physical endurance. In order to conserve the physical vigor of our people through the prompt and sure relief of economic distress due to sickness as well as through stimulation of preventive action in our industries, it seems to me most important to consider ways and means of establishing a health insurance system, probably under the supervision of the State Department of Labor on a basis where it will be supported and managed by those directly concerned as in the case of workmen's compensation. Obviously, such a system would automatically provide medical care and health instruction so that the plan would be both curative and preventive. Manifestly, under these certain conditions, it would be of mutual benefit to employer and wage-earner.

HASTENING STATE HIGHWAY BUILDING.

Organization is now completed for the administration of the State Highway System and the actual building of the roads must be facilitated in every way. One way is legislation enabling counties to borrow the funds for building roads prior to the time provided in the Highway Commission's schedule in anticipation of subsequent reimbursement from the State road money, to be raised by taxation. Another way is to leave in the discretion of the Highway Commission certain matters which would have a very vital bearing on the extent to which "war prices" and the mounting cost of all construction materials will affect the estimated total cost of the highway system; for instance, the questions as to what bridges shall be widened to the width of the paved road and what grade crossings shall be eliminated. I respectfully urge prompt legislation covering both of these important subjects.

Undoubtedly increased cost of all types of construction will greatly raise the expense of installing the new highway system, but it is questionable if former cost prices will ever return. At any rate, a postponement of this much-needed business asset would simply retard progress in all directions, including the immediately vital one of military preparedness. Improved highways are so essential in every respect that delay should not be countenanced on any pretext. Immediate activity in rebuilding or repairing, however, should be confined to the main trunk line arteries. Never has the country faced a period when further means of transportation were more necessary than to-day. Organization by the State Highway Commission of their own construction department should greatly reduce normal expenses of road construction; in fact, this already has been demonstrated by the experimental road building from Georgetown to Camp Dix, wherein the Highway Department, as its own contractor, and with reformatory inmates for labor, has been able to effect a saving of twenty-five per cent. over the estimated contractual cost of the undertaking.

FOOD—FUEL ADMINISTRATION—FISHERIES—MUNICIPAL FOOD DEPOTS.

Inexcusably high prices for foodstuffs have created an economic condition, aggravated by the war, which demands that the question of food and fuel conservation and price-control have a very large share of legislative attention. In the interest of cheaper fish, as one solution of the problem in providing substitute for meats, I recommend the passage of legislation based upon the report of our High Cost of Living Commission, giving absolute State control of the fisheries industries, which the people own anyway, in order that consumers may buy fish under State supervision and at a cost plus only the actual expense of catching and handling. Another solution of the food problem will be found in the regulation of food distribution by purchasing of certain staples daily in municipalities throughout the State under supervision of the State Bureau of Markets and retailing them at cost plus freight and shrinkage charges at municipal food depots to be established for the purpose. Provision for the daily publication of prices thus paid would have a most salutary effect in discouraging gouging on the part of unscrupulous private distributors. I recommend legislation to this end. I would also remind you that the Act of last year authorizing municipal governing bodies to buy food and sell to consumers at cost in time of emergency will be repealed automatically July 4, 1918, and I recommend that it be reënacted in even stronger form than before, and made to include fuel as well as food.

AIDING FARMERS—HOME GARDENERS—EXTENDED EMPLOYMENT SERVICE.

Food Administration will not be a success, no matter how much legislation we enact or how diligently we coöperate in practical economies with the Federal Food Administration, unless positive steps are taken to assist the farmer in producing and handling his crops. Shortage of farm labor is an alarming problem. Men, money and food are the triumverate of necessity in this war and the labor shortgage enters so persistently into the third factor that it deserves the most profound attention.

Last spring and summer, through the help of the Department of Public Instruction, we were able, in New Jersey, to engage 50,000 school pupils in the active creation and cultivation of home gardens and to supply upwards of 5,000 high school boys as patriotic helpers to the farmers of the State during the hours before and after school and during vacation. It was an experiment, a novel and wholly unfamiliar kind of work for most school pupils, and yet the results were amazingly effective. While the newness of the task rendered it unlikely, of course, that there would be any immediate effect on the living problem, yet the ultimate dividends from interesting people at large in food production and providing individual experience in farm work cannot, in my judgment, be overestimated. With the coming planting and harvest seasons there will be further opportunity to develop the plan, and I know I will have the continued coöperation of other State departments in perfecting organizations early so that the development may be on a much larger scale than last year.

Practical assistance has been given farmers distressed over labor conditions by the Federal-State-Municipal Employment Bureau, an employment service conducted by Federal Government and State and, at this time, the city of Newark. Aside from the general work of this institution, which resulted, during the past year in employment being given to about 50,000 persons, from the middle of April until the middle of September, fully 2,000 placements were made on farms. I think the excellence of these results warrant a general expansion of this institution, which is under the supervision of our Department of Labor in New Jersey. Most of the placements of work-seekers with farming experience took place on farms in the upper sections of New Jersey for the reason that the only headquarters of the bureau is located in Newark, with merely small branch offices in Jersey City and Orange. In order that the benefits of this bureau may likewise be felt by the South Jersey farmer, I strongly recommend to the Legislature that authorization be given for an additional office in South Jersey, perhaps at Camden. I am informed that Ohio has opened twenty-one of these labor exchanges. The necessity of encouraging and expanding this labor-finding agency will be even more apparent if the Federal Government acts on the suggestion that registered men of military age, between the time they are notified to hold themselves ready for selective service and the time of their actual mobilization at military cantonments, be permitted to assist farmers during the coming planting season. In making this suggestion to the Secretary of War I had in mind the possibility of utilizing the Federal-State Employment Service as a registration and distributing clearing house for such labor. Manifestly, the present is the time to improve and enlarge the service in order that our farm-labor organizations may be fully organized and prepared for any eventuality.

REGULATION OF PRIVATE EMPLOYMENT AGENCIES.

It has been urged by many that employment agencies be operated only by the State, Federal or Municipal authorities, and the operation of private agencies be entirely prohibited. There can be no doubt but that much occasion for this feeling has arisen out of the abuses practiced by some private agencies, not all of them. It would, however, seem to me that if the Federal-State-Municipal Employment Service is the success that it now promises to be, private agencies should be very largely eliminated through the natural operation of competition.

At the present time private employment agencies are licensed by the municipalities, but because they are doing business outside of their own cities and in the interest of a uniform regulation, I believe that they should be licensed by and regulated under the supervision of the Department of Labor.

SYSTEMATIZING OF PENSION METHODS.

The system of pensioning public employees of various descriptions is really not a system at all; it is the chaotic outgrowth of a mass of laws, many of them framed without regard to the common interests of the State. For months a legislative commission has been investigating this condition. They will have an enlightening report, but I am informed cannot complete their labor at this time. It is an important question, and the State is greatly involved. It must not be set aside until a solution is reached, and in the budget I am recommending a sufficient appropriation to make a thorough financial enquiry. Later it should be seized upon as the guide for legislation aimed to standardize and coördinate pensions throughout the State by providing regulations of a uniform kind and by insisting on absolute solvency.

SOLDIERS' NEEDS—POLL TAX EXEMPTION—COMPENSATION—MORATORIUM.

War has made it of paramount importance that as a State we pay close attention to the needs and comforts of our fellow-Jerseymen called to the colors. I would mention specifically the need of laws exempting soldiers from paying poll tax, clarifying the intention of the last Legislature to authorize State Departments or municipalities to compensate employees called to the military service, enabling soldiers to exercise their constitutional right of voting when away from home with intelligence and without so much red tape, and perhaps an act in the nature of a moratorium for New Jersey soldiers and more especially safeguarding all of the civil rights and privileges of the soldier in order that none may be forfeited by reason of his being in the military service.

ENCOURAGEMENT OF HOME GUARD UNITS.

While discussing military matters I should direct your attention to the Home Guard organizations in our State. They are performing a useful function in providing a means of efficient community defense in case of stress and in constituting a valued school for familiarizing the youth of the State with military tactics. I bespeak for these organizations legislation designed to extend State recognition and to provide for their further encouragement through municipalities. Our new State Militia, which was so quickly and satisfactorily created and organized last summer, when it became necessary to provide an adequate substitute for the Federalized National Guard, requires no legislation in addition to that which the last Legislature gave us, and is now ready for duty.

WELFARE WORK FOR COLORED PEOPLE.

Not altogether on account of the war, but for various reasons bringing about a change in industrial conditions, thousands of negroes are migrating from the South. This has created a problem of health, due to the newcomers lack of sufficient clothing and acclimation, which it is the duty of the State to meet and solve. From motives of economy in treating the condition at the beginning, as well as common humanity, I believe that the continuance of the present experimental Welfare Bureau by establishing it in the Department of Labor would prove effective, and I recommend your careful consideration of legislation to that end.

RESENTENCING POWER OF JUDGES.

The power of county judges to resentence a prisoner at any time during his incarceration has frequently given rise to the criticism that the constitutional principles concerning pardons and paroles have been violated. The criticism appears to be in every way justified, and I urge a statute repealing this power.

LEGISLATIVE REFERENCE BUREAU—A SUGGESTION.

You are familiar with the fact that last year the Legislature paved the way for an equalization of taxation as between districts within this State and also joined in the call for a conference of States which will tend to equalize taxation as between States and Federal Government; that the latter conference has been held and the Governor of New Jersey honored with the permanent chairmanship of the National Committee in Charge. All of this leads inevitably to the conclusion that greater care ought to be taken to see that laws enacted in individual States do not clash wantonly with laws on similar subjects in other States or in the Federal statute books. It has been suggested before that one way of securing uniform legislation is to provide a legislative reference bureau. I am strongly in favor of establishing such an institution, which in addition to uniformity would make for intelligent law-making and exact draftsmanship. Whether this is the best time to provide such a department, or whether it should be temporarily deferred as a needless expense in war times, I leave to your good judgment; but I do regard it as a progressive proposition which ought to be kept in mind. Coöperation between the State and some of our universities, for instance, could easily result in a legislative reference bureau, which, with competent management and up-to-date files of laws of all States on all subjects, public reports, monographs and treatises on current industrial, social and legal problems, would prove an invaluable guide and help to our lawmakers and insure legislation of a character avoiding costly duplication, making effectively for desired ends and eliminating the possibility of ill-considered, loosely-drawn acts dealing with important subjects and apt to be upset by the courts.

FULL COÖPERATION WITH FEDERAL GOVERNMENT IN WAR.

The personal acquaintance which it is my privilege to enjoy with you gentlemen of the Legislature counsels against the necessity of urging that the session be in perfect accord with the war aims and purposes of the National Government. The public confidence which you enjoy is a guarantee of your loyalty. Your patriotism is not on trial. But perhaps this may not be an inopportune time to let the Country know that every ounce of New Jersey's weight in man-power, official authority and material wealth will be at all times cheerfully thrown in the balance on the side of the Nation and her Allies in the war. Our Legislature, whether in regular session or in any extraordinary sessions that unforeseen developments may warrant, can be counted upon to shape all legislation with the war program of the Country clearly in mind. We must be ready to stimulate and help to advance every possible movement requiring public support intended to assist the Government in the prosecution of the war and to benefit the soldier at the front and the family at home, and yet we must be equally careful to recognize by our official action only those efforts which are coördinated and authorized by the Federal Government, in order to avoid costly duplications and conserve our energies. It is my firm belief that all State-wide activities should be through the well-organized State Council of Defense, which provides an opportunity to present the problem in an official manner to the smallest municipal unit. Statutes found desirable in peace may have to be repealed temporarily in war, and I ask the Legislature to hold itself ready to meet any such contingency. There will be conflict in nothing, coöperation in everything. New Jersey is not merely ready—New Jersey is determined to transform her assets and resources into war energy by the shortest cuts and to do her full part as a dynamic instrumentality in helping the U. S. A. to reach the zenith of her fighting power. No State can do more. Every State is reasonably expected to do as much. I feel you have given me much power in this regard. If I need more I shall ask it with confidence.

New Jersey and the United States, hand-in-hand in war, will likewise travel the same path of progress in industrial and commercial development. The way must be blazed by constructive statesmanship of large vision, seeing far beyond war times and through glasses that detect all latent possibilities. New Jersey took the initiative by agreeing to give the land when Washington digs the cross-State canal from river to ocean, a project which would come in very handy in these war times. In the development of our ports and waterfront as in the successful maintenance of the new State Militia and the aim to properly administer food and fuel and equalize taxation, it is plainly seen that the Federal Government needs the help of New Jersey and New Jersey needs Federal aid. New Jersey's place on the map, her waterfront, her industries, her comprehensive railroad system, will contribute heavily to her advantage as a commonwealth in the modern doctrine that the country must go forward with State lines eliminated and nothing but united action. Preparedness for the industrial and commercial eventualities of the future is quite as important as recent experience has shown military preparedness. It is a common cause. It demands mutual enterprise. With broad, sound cultivation the harvest can be ultimately nothing less than a finished product of public business efficiency as our contribution to a greater country.

TRENTON, NEW JERSEY,

On motion of Mr. Pierson, the reading of the Governor's message was dispensed with, and the message ordered spread in full upon the Minutes.

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary, as follows:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, January 8th, 1918.

To the Legislature:

Pursuant to Chapter 33 of the Laws of one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, I herewith transmit the report of the Commission to Investigate the Penal and Correctional Institutions of the State. After joint conference with the Commission to Investigate the Institutions of this State other than Penal and Correctional, the recommendations of both commissions have been embodied in one bill, and this will be introduced in the Legislature.

The report of this commission not only furnishes a thorough and comprehensive review of the conditions existing in penal and correctional institutions, but also adds a most valuable book of reference to New Jersey's library of history in this connection. The members of the commission have given freely of their time and funds in order to insure an intelligent, complete report for legislative consideration. I trust I may be permitted to take this opportunity of personally and on behalf of the State, thanking the individual members of the commission for their devotion to civic service.

Respectfully,
[SEAL.] WALTER E. EDGE,
Governor.

Secretary to the Governor.

Mr. Pierson moved that the Governor's message be received, spread in full upon the Minutes, and that the accompanying report be filed.

Which motion was adopted.

A message was received from the Governor, by the hands of his Secretary, as follows:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, January 8th, 1918.

To the Legislature:

I am transmitting herewith the report of the Colored Welfare and Employment Bureau of the Department of Labor, together with letter from Commissioner of Labor, Lewis T. Bryant, transmitting the same to me. This bureau was established by the Department of Labor and financed from the appropriation allotted to that Department for the purpose of experimenting with the problems peculiar to its jurisdiction prior to the convening of the Legislature, in order to furnish a practical basis for the recommendations contained in the report.

A bill has been prepared for introduction in the Legislature carrying out the recommendations in the report and empowering the establishment of the bureau under legislative authority, which I commend to your favorable consideration.

Very respectfully,

[SEAL.] WALTER E. EDGE,
Governor.

On motion of Mr. Pierson, the Governor's message was received, ordered spread upon the Minutes and accompanying report placed on file.

A message was received from the Governor, by the hands of his Secretary, as follows:

January 8th, 1918.

To the Legislature:

Of all the duties devolving upon the Governor in his constitutional function of enforcing the laws of the State, there is none more important or vital than the enforcement of the laws governing the sanctity of the ballot. This is the keystone of our representative form of government. For this reason I deem the recent election scandals resulting in the return of a number of indictments in one of the counties of this State of sufficient importance to warrant my directing the attention of the Senate and General Assembly to the situation through the channel of a special message.

Members of the board of elections, at a recent city election, have been indicted for conspiracy to permit persons who were not legally entitled to vote to do so under the names of persons who were legally and illegally registered. Men unknown to the members of such boards were permitted to vote under names of registrants who were dead, in prison, inmates of hospitals for the insane or nonresidents. In some instances persons who were legally registered to vote were surprised, upon presenting themselves at the polling places to cast their ballots, to find others had been permitted to exercise the privilege of suffrage under their registration. The indictment of these election officers charges that no comparison of signatures, either as to the spelling of the names or general characteristics of penmanship of the alleged voters, had been made, and that a large number of illegal votes were cast from the same houses in which certain election officers lived.

It is not my purpose to merely direct the light of further publicity upon these frauds for the sake of revelation or adding to sensation, without the suggestion of a remedy. I, therefore, attach a proposed bill designed to correct some existing evils for your consideration. It is plainly evident that the root of the evil, as demonstrated by the indictments of the Grand Jury, is in the character of the election officers appointed under the present system. In theory the selection of these officers, after a competitive civil service examination, would seem to be sound, but in practice it has been, in my judgment, an absolute failure. It is a well-known fact that the Civil Service Commission has had difficulty in securing a sufficient number of candidates to take examinations to fill the office of election officer, and members of the Commission freely admit the law's ineffectiveness. A candidate for election officer may be entirely able to qualify so far as answering the civil service questions is concerned, but he may be otherwise entirely unqualified for responsibility, of which fact the Commission would have no local knowledge.

I have discussed the subject with a Justice of the Supreme Court familiar with the situation, and, after further investigation, am convinced that the entire present method of selecting election officers must be changed, if honest elections are to be reasonably guaranteed.

It is an established principle that party political organization, honestly administered, is a proper and correct theory of government. I firmly believe that party organizations should be encouraged and accorded recognition when by their performance they show themselves worthy of recognition. But it is equally as well established that the first duty of party organization to the people is to guarantee an equal and proper opportunity to the electors to cast their ballots and a fair and honest count of the ballots so cast.

I have, therefore, prepared for your consideration a bill which permits the county organizations in the various counties of the State to recommend the names for appointment as election officers, but in order that such officers shall be removed from politics the power of appointment of these officers is vested in a bipartisan county board of four members, appointed by the Supreme Court Justice for the circuit of which such county is a part. The bill reserves to the county boards appointed by the court the power of summary removal of district election officers, and further permits such county boards to insist upon the submission of other names if those first submitted are not satisfactory. Recounts may be authorized by the county board, to be conducted by the Justice of the Supreme Court, or by a Supreme Court Commissioner designated by the Justice. The bills also provide a method of counting so-called marked ballots, vesting in the county board or Justice of the Supreme Court discretionary power in rejection of such ballots, to the end that the intent of the voter shall determine the judgment of the board or Justice, once the question of whether or not ballots are marked for the purpose of distinguishing the voter thereof is settled. This is to remedy an evil which has developed in every recount, and to permit intent, in the judgment of the Justice, to rule, rather than an inflexible law.

Respectfully,

Attest: [SEAL.] WALTER E. EDGE,

FRANCIS E. CROASDALE, Governor.

Secretary to the Governor.

On motion of Mr. Pierson, the Governor's message was ordered received and spread in full upon the Minutes.

A message was received from the Governor, by the hands of his Secretary, as follows:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, January 8th, 1918.

To the Legislature:

I am herewith transmitting, pursuant to Joint Resolution No. 2, Laws of 1917, the report of the Commission to Investigate the High Cost of Living. Bills have been prepared covering the recommendations of the commission; one providing additional authority to enable municipalities to purchase food and fuel for sale at cost to the public, plus cost of administration of such operation, and the other establishes the Department of Fisheries to take over in the interest of the people of the State the product of the pound fisheries. The first bill is mainly an extension of an act passed by the last session of the Legislature, which expires on July 1st of this year, while the proposed bill extends for a period of six months after the conclusion of the present war.

While I am opposed to governmental competition with private enterprise, where such private enterprise is properly serving the public, I am sure it is universally agreed, in view of the wide discrepancy between prices paid the fishermen at the pound and the prices charged the ultimate consumer, that the State should take immediate steps to provide the practical remedy. The quantity or quality of the fish that swim in seas are in no way controlled or improved by the genius or enterprise of any private individual, company or corporation, but this food product is admittedly the property of the people. This fact once established and there is no question of the State's right to prevent manipulation which mulcts the pockets of the public.

This commission has given much time and study to this very intricate problem, and while no claim is made that a permanent, universal solution has been found, it must be admitted, in view of the fact that this is a field which is largely and more properly the subject of Federal legislation, that a long step in reduction of food prices will have been effected, with the successful operation of the department recommended.

I wish to take this opportunity of personally and on behalf of the State, thanking the individual members of the commission for the sacrifice and labor they have expended, without recompense, in considering this problem and in compiling this very comprehensive and practical report.

Respectfully,

A message was received from the Governor, by the hands of his Secretary, and was read by the Clerk, as follows:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, January 14th, 1918.

To the Legislature:

On the eve of your detail consideration of the constructive program of the session, and other matters which will necessarily come before you, may I not have a further word supplementing the more or less usual ceremonial functions of the opening day?

You are sitting in a day of war. I deem this sufficient reason for emphasizing the necessity of a session different from the average; different in that its deep keynote of Americanism must absorb customary partisanship, discourage consideration of unimportant details and overshadows self-centered demands on your attention.

I know that you gentlemen, irrespective of party consideration, sincerely desire it. My sole reason for sending this message is to strengthen you in your lofty purpose and to emphasize the partnership I feel in it. I want you to know that the executive branch of the State government is ready to assist you in your praiseworthy ambition to co-operate with a government at war; that if any needed detail of legislation be inadvertently overlooked in the patriotic concentration on national success in the conflict, the executive department pledges itself to supply the deficiency to the limit of its powers and resources. Such support will be impersonal and non-political.

We agree it is of paramount importance that the introduction of bills be limited strictly to such as bear upon subjects worthy of serious consideration, in a year when retrenchment and sureness have the call over extravagance and experiment. I pray that the legislative calendar may not be clogged with a mass of meaningless measures. There is seldom any excuse for a wholesale addition to our statutes; certainly none at a time when all thought and energy are concentrated on the solution of a grave international problem. Bills applying to purely local situations may be needless in view of past and prospective home rule legislation. I ask individual legislators to exercise judgment before feeding in such bills and overloading the legislative press. Measures already before you seem to cover every essential public need, although, of course, I have no desire to in any way confine your activities or initiation. Never did legislators have greater cause to summon political courage and refuse to stand sponsor for the ready-made bills of those invisible lawmakers who every year attempt to prostitute the Legislature to their own selfish ends.

Again, distinctly "war legislation" should be carefully considered with the welfare of the whole country in mind. Bills permitting the State to control fisheries and municipalities, to buy and sell food and fuel in emergencies, are proposed. They should help a situation growing more serious every day. But I deem it proper to warn you against any agitated legislation apt to interfere with the aims of the national food and fuel administrations. This problem is national in scope. Any permanent relief must come from national enforcement of nation-wide regulations. This is evident from the plain fact that present troubles are largely due to too many food and fuel bosses. The Federal Government has taken over control of all railroads and no State utility commission would assume to interfere. Legislation certain to confuse the national food and fuel regulation would be equally unwise. Any shortcomings in this regulation must be supplied by Washington; patchwork in individual States can only add to the confusion and impotency.

Finally, it is my earnest hope that such business as comes before the Legislature may be transacted without recourse on the part of either majority or minority to the familiar custom of partisanship. Time is of the essence of victory in this war. It is unthinkable in this hour, when essential industries are hampered for want of power and help, that costly legislative session should be wantonly prolonged and men of the able type of legislators unnecessarily detained from other useful pursuits while precious moments are wasted in political repartee and partisan bickerings. May not New Jersey look forward to a Legislature without a minority—with only an American majority? May not New Jersey provide a patriotic inspiration for the country and Congress in this respect? I sincerely hope so. Let New Jersey's war Legislature clip the red tape of political tradition and co-operate with the United States and her Allies by dutting corners to war-time preparation and fitness.

Respectfully,

[SEAL] WALTER E. EDGE,
Attest: Governor.
FRANCIS E. CROASDALE,

WHEREAS, In the present colossal world war, through the foresight and energy of her courageous Governor, she was found ready and prepared to render adequate and effective assistance to the Federal Government in the successful prosecution of the war, and,

WHEREAS, By reason of her strategic position on the Atlantic seaboard, by the location within her boundaries of numerous plants for the manufacture of war munitions, for the building of ships, the terminals of the great trunk railways and steamship lines, her thousands of miles of adequately operated railroads, and her innumerable facilities for expeditiously aiding the Government of the United States, she has come to play a great and important part in the struggle for liberty, and,

WHEREAS, By reason of her thorough preparation commenced long before the present struggle began, and developed to a high degree of efficiency through the tireless efforts of her Governor and his officials, she has been able to render untold aid to the Federal Government, and,

WHEREAS, By reason of the skill and efficiency displayed through her military policy she has taken steps to curb the plots of alien enemies and their sympathizers, bent on bringing havoc and destruction and endeavoring to cripple the successful prosecution of the war, and,

WHEREAS, On Saturday last, on but a few minutes' notice, she was able to mobilize and dispatch to threatened points the State Militia for the more effective safeguarding of life and property, thereby relieving the Government of the United States of such a duty, and,

WHEREAS, The State Militia is a part of the scheme of National Defense organized by the Governor and his advisors; therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Assembly (the Senate concurrent), That we indorse this policy and extend to our war Governor, his Excellency Walter E. And your committee further reports the subjoined Articles of Impeachment, and recommend that they be referred to the managers, when appointed, to be by them revised, adopted, enlarged or amended, and report again to the House for action thereon.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Dated February 6th, 1918.

Articles of impeachment exhibited by the House of Assembly of the State of New Jersey in the name of themselves and all the people of the State of New Jersey, against Wilbur D. Speece, a justice of the peace, elected from the township of Egg Harbor, in the county of Atlantic, in said State of New Jersey, in maintenance and support of their impeachment against him of high crimes and misdemeanors in office.

Article 1. That the said Wilbur D. Speece, justice of the Peace, as aforesaid, was on the seventeenth day of December, 1917, convicted of the crimes of conspiracy along with one Harry Burris and Daniel Haff; that said Speece was charged in said indictment along with others, of extorting money under the color of his office as justice of the peace. The evidence produced at said trial disclosed the method used to fleece their victims of their money, which was as follows:

The said Wilbur D. Speece pretended to swear in Burris and Haff as officers of the law and give them power to make arrests in spite of the fact that they were to the knowledge of Speece, not officers of the law. Burris and Haff were then given badges as special officers or constables. Armed with flashlights Burris and Haff made a practice, at night, of endeavoring to surprise couples who might be found along the lonely roads in the woods near the house of Speece. Numerous couples were thus surprised by Burris and Haff, who would place them under arrest, and take them before Speece, who had an office at a farmhouse nearby. Speece would listen to the complaint of Burris and Haff, who would charge the parties supposedly arrested by them with disorderly conduct. After conducting a hearing Speece would announce that it was within his power to impose a jail sentence. He would also state he knew the parents of the young lady and felt sorry for them and if a fine was paid he would not impose a jail sentence. The fine would then be bargained for between Speece and his victims and was usually fixed at a sum for fine and costs about equal to the sum Speece found his victims could raise. In some cases Speece imposed such illega and excessive fines when the only charge was that of sitting in an automobile on the right side of the road, with all lights lighted. This Speece declared was a violation of the Disorderly Act.

Upon the trial in the Quarter Sessions Court of Atlantic county, Speece, with the others, was convicted, and later was sentenced to serve a year in the New Jersey State Prison, at hard labor.

Article 2. In addition to the above-mentioned conviction the said Wilbur D. Speece, who is forty-six years of age, has a considerable criminal record.

Sometime prior to January 10th, 1900, he was convicted of obtaining money under false pretenses at Carlisle, Cumberland county, Pennsylvania.

Sometime prior to January 10th, 1900, he was a city detective in the Police Department of the city of Harrisburg, State of Pennsylvania. At his trial in Atlantic county he testified that while he was such city detective in the city of Harrisburg, he was the graft collector for the disorderly houses of that city and that he was likewise at the same time operating a large gambling place in which various forms of gambling were carried on. He also admitted at said trial that he had pleaded guilty, on January 10th, 1900, in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, to selling liquor without a license, to selling liquor on Sunday, to receiving illegal fees and to keeping a gambling house. The records of Harrisburg also show that he pleaded guilty to selling liquor to minors and to a charge of adultery.

While on the witness stand, at his trial, in Atlantic county, he also testified that he was sentenced to three months on some of the above charges and thirty and sixty days on some of the others. He stated, however, that he was not actually sent to jail, but was sent to the farm, and that while he was serving his term at the farm, he received his full pay as city detective of the city of Harrisburg, and more than his pay.

On October 24th, 1907, at York, York county, Pennsylvania, Speece was convicted of larceny as bailee on three different charges and also on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. On October 28th, 1907, he was sentenced by the Court upon this conviction to imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary of Pennsylvania, for a period of two years and served his term.

In the year 1912, Speece was convicted in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania of devising a scheme and artifice to defraud, to be effected by means of the use of the United States mails. On June 24th, 1912, he was sentenced in said court to a term of six months in Moyamensing Prison, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, which term of imprisonment he served.

Article 3. That because of the criminal character of the said Wilbur D. Speece as shown by his previous criminal record and his present conviction in Atlantic county, in this State, in matters in connection with the doings of his office as justice of the peace, he is not a fit person to hold such office where he is empowered to sit in judgment upon the liberties of the citizens of the State.

And the House of Asembly, by protestation, saving to themselves, the liberty of exhibiting at any time hereafter any further articles or other accusation of impeachment against the said Wilbur D. Speece, justice of the peace, and also of replying to his answer which he shall make to the Articles herein preferred against him, and of offering proof to the same and every part thereof, and to all such every other article, accusation or impeachment which shall be exhibited by them, as the case shall require, do demand that the said Wilbur D. Speece may be put to answer the further crimes and misdemeanors in office herein charged against him, and that such proceedings, examinations, trials and judgments may be thereupon had and given as may be agreeable to law and justice.

CHARLES A. WOLVERTON,
Speaker of the House of Assembly.

UPTON S. JEFFERYS,
Clerk of the House.

Mr. Speaker:

I am directed by the Senate to inform the House of Assembly that the Senate has concurred in the following concurrent resolution:

Concurrent resolution calling the attention of the people of the State of New Jersey to the necessity for immediately harvesting and storing three times their normal cut of natural ice, to safeguard the public health, and insure the preservation of perishable foods during the coming summer period.

Be it resolved by the House of Assembly (the Senate concurring):

WHEREAS, Two factors have this winter militated against the harvesting the usual supply of natural ice in this State, one being the lack of labor and the other the intense and long continued cold spell; and

WHEREAS, Inasmuch as two-thirds of all ice used in this State is made by artificial means, into which method ammonia is both essential and important; and

WHEREAS, We are creditably informed that our National Government will need and appropriate for their own martial uses a major portion of all available ammonia, thus preventing to a large extent the manufacture of artificial ice; therefore, in order that we may this coming summer protect the health of our citizenry and insure the preservation of our perishable food supply; be it

Resolved, That the attention of the people of this State be called to the gravity of this situation, that they be and hereby are urged in the strongest possible terms, to immediately harvest and store three times their usual cut of ice, in which recommendation His Excellency, the Governor, the State Department of Agriculture and the State Department of Health most heartily concur; and be it further

Resolved, That the earnest and immediate coöperation be requested of the State Department of Agriculture, the Division of Extension in the State Agricultural College, the Granges of the State and the County Boards of Agriculture, that they may give full and proper notice to their membership while natural ice yet remains to be cut; and be it further

Resolved, That the public press of this State be and hereby are requested to give the widest possible publicity to the urgency of the situation, that the health, welfare and prosperity of the people of New Jersey may not be endangered through ignorance of existing conditions.

A message was received from the Governor, by the hands of Mr. Croasdale, his Secretary, which was read, as follows:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
February 19th, 1918.

To the Assembly:

I am returning herewith House Bill No. 108 without my approval for the reason that it would undoubtedly disturb State finances.

The bill provides an exemption. It is impossible to determine to what extent the proposed supplement will affect current revenue. Exemptions should not extend beyond local institutions.

The estimate of receipts from the Transfer Inheritance Tax for the fiscal year ending October 31st, 1918, was $3,300,000. The Comptroller, in making this estimate, assumed that no changes affecting the revenue would be permitted. The Budget Commission considered the Comptroller's estimate as a basis for its deliberations and actions.

An exemption similar to the one proposed prevailed from 1898 until 1906. The Legislature of this State indicated its disapproval thereof by refusing to incorporate a provision for the exemption in the acts passed in 1906, 1909, 1914. Sentiment should not prevail in the matter of inheritance taxation. The approval of this bill would probably result in further applications for action of similar kind affecting institutions, charitable, religious or otherwise, that are now subject to the act.

Respectfully,
WALTER E. EDGE,
Governor.

Attest:
FRANCIS E. CROASDALE,
Secretary to the Governor.

Mr. Pierson moved that the Governor's message be received, spread in full upon the Minutes, and the bill lie over.

Which motion was adopted.

A message was received from the Governor, by the hands of Mr. Croasdale, his Secretary, which was read, as follows:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
February 19th, 1918.

To the Assembly:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 77, for the reason that another bill now before me for consideration, Assembly Bill No. 219, covers the same subject. Assembly Bill No. 77 is a general act applying to the entire State, while Assembly Bill No. 219 is a special act applying to Jersey City alone. In my judgment, the policy which such bill would authorize is doubtful to the point of requiring the most careful consideration, and I would, therefore, much prefer giving final consideration to a special bill rather than to a general bill.

Respectfully,
WALTER E. EDGE,
Governor.

Attest:
FRANCIS E. CROASDALE,
Secretary to the Governor.

Mr. Pierson moved that the Governor's message be received, spread in full upon the Minutes, and the bill lie over.

Which motion was adopted.

A message was received from the Governor, by the hands of Mr. Croasdale, his Secretary, which was read, as follows:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
February 19th, 1918.

Hon. Charles A. Wolverton, Speaker, House of Assembly, Trenton, New Jersey:

Dear Sir—I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 29, for the reason that such an act is entirely unnecessary. The purpose of this repealer is to remove from the Motor Vehicle Act section 19, which provides that no intoxicated person shall drive a motor vehicle. Since this matter is fully covered by the supplement of 1913 to the Disorderly Persons Act of 1898, it is practically certain that the Act of 1913 repeals section 19 of the Motor Vehicle Act by implication, and that no useful purpose would be accomplished by Assembly Bill No. 29.

Respectfully,
WALTER E. EDGE,
Governor.

Attest:
FRANCIS E. CROASDALE,
Secretary to the Governor.

Mr. Pierson moved that the Governor's message be received, spread in full upon the Minutes, and the bill lie over.

Which motion was adopted.

A message was received from the Governor, by the hands of Mr. Croasdale, his Secretary, which was read, as follows:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
February 19th, 1918.

Hon. Charles A. Wolverton, Speaker, House of Assembly, Trenton, New Jersey:

Dear Sir—I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 30, for practically the same reasons that I have vetoed Assembly Bill No. 29.

The purpose of Assembly Bill No. 30 is to eliminate from the supplement to the Grimes Act of 1919 the provisions referring to any person who is driving a motor vehicle while in an intoxicated condition.

The Court of Errors and Appeals has held that this provision of the Grimes Act was substantially repealed by the supplement of 1913 to the Disorderly Persons Act of 1898, consequently there is no necessity for this later repealer, and there is the further doubt in my mind whether a new act might not be regarded as the latest declaration of the Legislature on this subject, and thereby, by implication, eliminate the drastic, but, in my judgment, very necessary provision with regard to this subject in the Act of 1913.

Respectfully,
WALTER E. EDGE,
Governor.

Attest:
FRANCIS E. CROASDALE,
Secretary to the Governor.

Mr. Pierson moved that the Governor's message be received, spread in full upon the Minutes, and the bill lie over.

Which motion was adopted.

A message was received from the Governor, by the hands of Mr. Crosdale, his Secretary, as follows:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the Assembly: February 18th, 1918.

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 31, for several reasons.

In the first place, the bill is defective in that its title designates the amendment to the supplement referred to in the title as a supplement instead of designating it as an amendment.

Secondly, there is question, under the bill as drawn, as to whether the powers of the assistant clerk are conferred upon the temporary assistant clerk.

Thirdly, if it was simply the intention, through this bill, to have the power to appoint a temporary assistant clerk, it is, in my judgment, not necessary to have an act of the Legislature for this purpose. Possibly such temporary assistant clerk would not have the power to sign writs and processes, for which purpose an act of the Legislature would be necessary.

Respectfully,
WALTER E. EDGE,
Governor.

FRANCIS E. CROASDALE,
Secretary to the Governor.

Mr. Pierson moved that the Governor's message be received, spread in full upon the Minutes, and the bill lie over.

A message was received from the Governor, by the hands of Mr. Croasdale, his Secretary, as follows:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the Assembly: February 18th, 1918.

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 11, for the reason that there appears to be no necessity for such an act. The Act of 1917, which Assembly Bill No. 11 specifically repeals, will expire by its own limitation on July 4, 1918. A new bill providing for a new method for municipalities taking action in food and fuel emergencies has been passed by the Legislature and approved by the Governor, and its provisions may be taken advantage of immediately by municipalities in this State, inasmuch as it is later legislation than the Act of 1917.

A further reason for not specifically repealing the Act of 1917 is that it may be possible that some municipalities in the State have acted under the provisions of the Act of 1917, and thereby a repealer prior to the date set for the expiration of the Act of 1917 by its own limitation would be of doubtful advisability.

Very respectfully,

WALTER E. EDGE,

Attest: Governor.

FRANCIS E. CROASDALE,

Secretary to the Governor.

A message was received from the Governor, by the hands of Mr. Croasdale, his Secretary, which was read, as follows:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
February 19th, 1918.

To the Assembly:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 189, for the reason that in my judgment there is no occasion for such an extensive increase in the salary paid to the Clerk to the Jury Commissioners in counties of the first class. The effect of this bill would be to provide the authority for suddenly increasing the compensation of such clerks in such counties from nine hundred to fifteen hundred dollars per year. This is not in accord with the policy of gradual salary increases based upon experience and service which has been adopted by the administration.

Furthermore, inasmuch as the expenses of details in connection with jury drawing under the old system was borne by the sheriff's office, practically without additional expense to the county, I cannot conceive that it was the intention of the Legislature to place an additional expense, even upon counties of the first class, of twenty-four hundred dollars per year in order to have the benefits of the new jury system. I am inclined to believe that with careful co-operation as between the Jury Commissioner, the Clerk to the Jury Commissioner and the sheriff's office, eighteen hundred dollars per annum is ample to take care of this detail.

Respectfully,

WALTER E. EDGE,

Attest: Governor.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the Assembly: February 19th, 1918.

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 210, for practically the same reasons that I have declined to approve Assembly Bills Nos. 207 and 208. Continual changing, in small details, of the statutes governing the formation and conducting of building and loan associations is not, in my judgment, conducive to the continued success and prosperity of one of the safest sources of investment. Nothing is to be gained, as I see it, by enmeshing building and loan associations, which are conducted, as a rule, by practical business men with very practical ideas, in a mass of statutes requiring continual advice from lawyers. Furthermore, it is questionable whether a bill which increases the amount of shares subscribed before a building and loan association may commence business would not tend to discourage such thrift enterprises in some of the very small communities of the State. This may be a debatable question, but inasmuch as our building and loan associations have met with such pronounced success, I hesitate to approve a bill which merely adds to the law on the subject and does not seem to be material or necessary.

Respectfully,
WALTER E. EDGE,
Governor.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the Assembly: February 19th, 1918.

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 207, for the reason that I cannot believe it is necessary to require the counsel of a building and loan association to give a bond. This official does not handle the funds of the association. He is merely a solicitor and gives his advice to the directors of the building and loan association with respect to their actions as related to the laws of the State and procedure.

Our building and loan associations have prospered and succeeded so well under existing laws that I hesitate to interfere with the present practice unless there seems to be sufficient reason therefor.

WALTER E. EDGE,

To the Assembly:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 123, for the reason that there appears to be no real justification for opening the way for counties under fifty thousand population in this State to elect county physicians. In my judgment it would be far more economical for smaller counties to retain a physician in the comparatively few cases where one may be required than to have a permanent official at an annual salary. In the interest of saving the smaller counties from additional expense I cannot approve this bill.

Respectfully,
WALTER E. EDGE,
Governor.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the Assembly: February 19th, 1918.

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 208, which requires the approval of the Commissioner of Banking and Insurance of the constitution adopted by a building and loan association. The idea, no doubt, is that if this approval is required, the constitution will be more likely to comply with the law and be in practical workable form.

Inasmuch as the present law already provides that building and loan association shall not adopt a constitution not inconsistent with this act or any law of this State, I can see no reason why it is necessary to have in addition the approval of the Commissioner of Banking and Insurance. If the building and loan associations comply with the law in adopting a constitution, that is, of course, all that could be asked. If they do not comply with the law, the Banking Insurance Commissioner would have jurisdiction without this amendment.

Respectfully,
WALTER E. EDGE,
Governor.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the Assembly: February 19th, 1918.

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 19. After a careful investigation I have been forced to the conclusion that there exists no real necessity for the designation of a stenographer for the juvenile courts. I am aware that the bill applies only to counties of the first class, but, nevertheless, it merely creates an additional office at a salary of twelve hundred dollars per year.

Mr. Pierson presented the report of the managers appointed for the trial of the impeachment of Wilbur D. Speece, a justice of the peace, of Egg Harbor township, county of Atlantic. The report is as follows:

TRENTON, February 19th, 1918.

The managers appointed by the House of Assembly for the trial of the impeachment of Wilbur D. Speece, a justice of the peace of the township of Egg Harbor, county of Atlantic, in this State, would report back to this House for adoption of the Articles of Impeachment heretofore reported by the Committee on Judiciary on February 6th, 1918, as per accompanying article.

It appears proper to the managers that these articles should be adopted and that the organization of the court for the trial of impeachment and the securing of witnesses in this case should not be delayed.

ARTHUR N. PIERSON,
RALPH N. KELLAM,
A. W. SIMPSON,
GEORGE S. HOBART,
WALTER G. WINNE,
Managers.

Articles of impeachment exhibited by the House of Assembly of the State of New Jersey in the name of themselves and all the people of the State of New Jersey, against Wilbur D. Speece, a justice of the peace, elected from the township of Egg Harbor, in the county of Atlantic, in said State of New Jersey, in maintenance and support of their impeachment against him of high crimes and misdemeanors in office.

Article 1. That the said Wilbur D. Speece, justice of the peace, as aforesaid, was on the seventeenth day of December, 1917, convicted of the crimes of conspiracy along with one Harry Burris and Daniel Haff; that said Speece was charged in said indictment along with others, of extorting money under the color of his office as justice of the peace. The evidence produced at said trial disclosed the method used to fleece their victims of their money, which was as follows:

The said Wilbur D. Speece pretended to swear in Burris and Haff as officers of the law and give them power to make arrests in spite of the fact that they were to the knowledge of Speece, not officers of the law. Burris and Haff were then given badges as special officers or constables. Armed with flashlights Burris and Haff made a practice, at night, of endeavoring to surprise couples who might be found along the lonely roads in the woods near the house of Speece. Numerous couples were thus surprised by Burris and Haff, who would place them unde arrest, and take them before Speece, who had an office at a farmhouse nearby. Speece would listen to the complaint of Burris and Haff, who would charge the parties supposedly arrested by them with disorderly conduct. After conducting a hearing Speece would announce that it was within his power to impose a jail sentence. He would also state he knew the parents of the young lady and felt sorry for them and if a fine was paid he would not impose a jail sentence. The fine would then be bargained for between Speece and his victims and was usually fixed at a sum for fine and costs about equal to the sum Speece found his victims could raise. In some cases Speece imposed such illegal and excessive fines when the only charge was that of sitting in an automobile on the right side of the road, with all lights lighted. This Speece declared was a violation of the Disorderly Act.

Upon the trial in the Quarter Sessions Court of Atlantic county, Speece, with the others, was convicted, and later was sentenced to serve a year in the New Jersey State Prison, at hard labor.

Article 2. In addition to the above-mentioned conviction the said Wilbur D. Speece, who is forty-six years of age, has a considerable criminal record.

Sometime prior to January 10th, 1900, he was convicted of obtaining money under false pretenses at Carlisle, Cumberland county, Pennsylvania.

Sometime prior to January 10th, 1900, he was a city detective in the Police Department of the city of Harrisburg, State of Pennsylvania. At his trial in Atlantic county he testified that while he was such city detective in the city of Harrisburg, he was the graft collector for the disorderly houses of that city and that he was likewise at the same time operating a large gambling place in which various forms of gambling were carried on. He also admitted at said trial that he had pleaded guilty, on January 10th, 1900, in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, to selling liquor without a license, to selling liquor on Sunday, to receiving illegal fees and to keeping a gambling house. The records of Harrisburg also show that he pleaded guilty to selling liquor to minors and to a charge of adultery.

While on the witness stand, at his trial, in Atlantic county, he also testified that he was sentenced to three months on some of the above charges and thirty and sixty days on some of the others. He stated, however, that he was not actually sent to jail, but was sent to the farm, and that while he was serving his term at the farm, he received his full pay as city detective of the city of Harrisburg, and more than his pay.

On October 24th, 1907, at York, York county, Pennsylvania, Speece was convicted of larceny as bailee on three different charges and also on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. On October 28th, 1907, he was sentenced by the Court upon his conviction to imprisonment in the Eastern Pentitentiary of Pennsylvania, for a period of two years and served his term.

In the year 1912, Speece was convicted in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania of devising a scheme and artfice to defraud, to be effected by means of the use of the United States mails. On June 24th, 1912, he was sentenced in said court to a term of six months in Moyamensing Prison, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, which term of imprisonment he served.

Article 3. That because of the criminal character of the said Wilbur D. Speece as shown by his previous criminal record and his present conviction in Atlantic county, in this State, in matters in connection with the doings of his office as justice of the peace, he is not a fit person to hold such office where he is empowered to sit in judgment upon the liberties of the citizens of the State.

And the House of Assembly, by protestation, saving to themselves, the liberty of exhibiting at any time hereafter any further articles or other accusation of impeachment against the said Wilbur D. Speece, justice of the peace, and also of replying to his answer which he shall make to the Articles herein preferred against him, and of offering proof to the same and every part thereof, and to all such every other article, accusation or impeachment which shall be exhibited by them, as the case shall require, do demand that the said Wilbur D. Speece may be put to answer the further crimes and misdemeanors in officer herein charged against him, and that such proceedings, examinations, trials and judgments may be thereupon had and given as may be agreeable to law and justice.

CHARLES A. WOLVERTON,
Speaker of the House of Assembly.

UPTON S. JEFFERYS,
Clerk of the House.

Mr. Cochran offered the following resolution and moved its adoption:

Speece, a justice of the peace in the township of Egg Harbor, county of Atlantic, in this State, and the articles of impeachment therein reported, be received, spread in full upon the Minutes, and adopted, and that the managers do present the same at the bar of the Senate.

A message was received from the Governor, by the hands of Mr. Croasdale, his Secretary, which was read, as follows:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the House of Assembly: February 26th, 1918.

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 126. Evidently the purpose of this bill is to provide a summary method of dealing with those offenders who place sharp substances, such as broken glass, on the streets, with malicious intent. The bill has been framed under the impression that there does not exist any method of dealing summarily with such offenders, but that the only remedy is through recourse to the grand jury, as provided in the Pamphlet Laws of 1918, making the placing of sharp substances on the road a misdemeanor.

There is not any question that municipalities have full power, by ordinance, to prohibit the placing of sharp substances upon streets with malicious intent, and providing that offenders be dealt with summarily in police courts and before local magistrates. Even if this were not the case, however, I am convinced that the police power is amply sufficient to deal swiftly with such offenders. For this reason I am withholding my signature from the bill, and in doing so I fully agree with the view that such an offense as this bill refers to should not be made the subject of grand jury investigation except in rare instances, and should be dealt with summarily by local courts.

Respectfully,

WALTER E. EDGE,
Governor.

Attest:

FRANCIS E. CROASDALE,
Secretary to the Governor.

Mr. Pierson moved that the Governor's message be received, spread in full upon the Minutes, and the bill lie over.

Which motion was adopted.

A message was received from the Governor, by the hands of Mr. Croasdale, his Secretary, which was read, as follows:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the House of Assembly: February 26th, 1918.

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 183. The sole amendment provided by this bill to the act incorporating the Second Judicial District of Monmouth County is to substitute the word "territory" for the word "property." No doubt the use of the word "property" was a typographical error in the original act of 1913.

It is argued by those on behalf of the bill that even though trifling the amendment is necessary for the reason that attorneys in litigation might take the ground before the Supreme Court that there is no second district in Monmouth County, because the Legislature should have created the district out of territory instead of out of property.

I cannot believe that our Supreme Court would countenance any argument patently based on a typographical error of no consequence, nor that they would refuse to take into consideration the plain intent of the Legislature to create another judicial district in Monmouth County. A further reason for withholding my approval from this bill is that it is a special act, and therefore should be advertised, but no proof of publication is attached.

Respectfully,

WALTER E. EDGE,

Governor.

Attest:

FRANCIS E. CROASDALE,

Secretary to the Governor.

Mr. Pierson moved that the Governor's message be received, spread in full upon the Minutes, and the bill lie over.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the House of Assembly: February 26th, 1918.

I hereby return, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 139.

I consider this bill absolutely unnecessary and, in addition it might lead to uncertainty as to the powers of the State Highway Commission. All the powers sought in this bill are already given to the Highway Commission under the legislation of a year ago. The proviso in Assembly Bill No. 139 that the State Highway Commission shall first deduct from the receipts of the Motor Vehicle Department amounts which it deems necessary for the specific use of the Highway Commission, may very properly raise the question as to whether this would not amend previous laws which permit the Motor Vehicle Department to first draw from this fund the expenses of conducting the department. Under the circumstances the act before me would tend to confuse clearly understood and generally approved regulations concerning the use of this income.

Very respectfully,

WALTER E. EDGE,
Governor.

Attest:
FRANCIS E. CROASDALE,
Secretary to the Governor.

Mr. Pierson moved that the Governor's message be received, spread in full upon the Minutes, and the bill lie over.

Which motion was adopted.

A message was received from the Governor, by the hands of Mr. Croasdale, his Secretary, which was read, as follows:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the House of Assembly: February 27th, 1918.

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 236, for the reason that I am advised there exists ample law on this subject. If malicious damage were done to sewer pipes there seems to be no question that the offense would be indictable as malicious mischief.

The purpose of the bill, as explained in the statement attached, is to prevent damage to sewers. If damage is done to property of this kind, of course there is a remedy through a civil court. The bill under consideration undoubtedly reaches further than other statutes in that it includes the person who unlawfully makes connection with a sewer, but there are various ways of contending with this situation. No doubt exists in my mind that this bill is intended to cover a particular case, and I feel sure that it is unnecessary, as a general proposition.

Respectfully,

WALTER E. EDGE,
Governor.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the Assembly: February 27th, 1918.

I herewith return, without my approval, House Bill No. 310.

Some of the offenses mentioned in the bill might constitute bribery, as where the park is a public park in charge of a public official, and the money is paid to the public official to induce him to disregard his public duties in the interest of the person paying the money. I can see no reason, however, why the payment of a commission to a servant of the owner of a private estate or a golf club grounds should constitute an offense, when the payment of a commission to a butler employed in a city home, or a chauffeur would not constitute an offense. The act seems to select a particular class for protection, and upon that ground it may be special, and, therefore, defective. Under this act it would be an offense for the superintendent of a private country estate to receive a bonus from the person from whom he purchased coal for the estate. It would, however, be no offense for a servant of the owner of a city house to receive a bonus from the same coal dealer upon the purchase of the same amount of coal.

I can see no distinction between these two transactions which would warrant the inclusion of the one and the exclusion of the other.

Respectfully,

WALTER E. EDGE,

Governor.

A message was received from the Governor, by the hands of Mr. Croasdale, his Secretary, which was read, as follows:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
February 27th, 1918.

To the Assembly:

I herewith return House Bill No. 321 without my approval.

The purpose of this bill seems to be to give control over the practice of midwifery to local boards of health. Control over this practice is now vested in the State Board of Medical Examiners. This bill does not interfere with the control of the State Board of Medical Examiners, but confers concurrent control upon the local board of health. I can see no reason for requiring a midwife to be licensed both by the State Board of Medical Examiners and the local board of health. The present board has power to revoke licenses of midwives, and undoubtedly would do so upon the presentation of evidence which would warrant the revocation of such licenses. If the bill were to become a law in its present form it would probably lead to complications, because of the concurrent jurisdiction over the same subect matter exercised by the State Board of Medical Examiners and the local boards of health.

Respectfully,

WALTER E. EDGE,

Governor.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
February 27th, 1918.

To the Assembly:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 339.

This bill appears to give to any taxing district the right to make return of delinquent taxes, and to make tax sales within three months from the date when the act becomes effective. This right would appear to extend to the filing of delinquent taxes for any year prior to the year 1917, and the selling of the property affected for such taxes. Under the present law, taxes are a lien for two years from the twentieth day of December following the levying thereof. The collector is required to file the list of delinquent taxes in the county clerk's office on the first Tuesday in February. The purpose of this requirement is that the public shall have notice of delinquent taxes on real property in order that they may be protected in the purchase of such property so far as tax claims are concerned. It would appear that this act would operate to destroy this protection, so far as taxes are concerned which became delinquent prior to 1917. In other words, the lien of the taxes might be revived against property in the hands of innocent purchasers who acquired the property without any notice of unpaid taxes.

Respectfully,

WALTER E. EDGE,
Governor.

Reasons Given by Walter E. Edge, Governor, for Filing in the State Library Bills Presented to him for Executive Action.

Assembly Bill No. 28, entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act to amend an act entitled "An act defining motor vehicles and providing for the registration of the same and the licensing of the drivers thereof; fixing rules regulating the use and speed of motor vehicles; fixing the amount of license and registration fees; prescribing and regulating process and the service thereof and proceedings for the violation of the provisions of the act and penalties for said violations," approved April twelfth, one thousand nine hundred and six,' which amendment was approved April twenty-first, one thousand nine hundred and nine."

March 4th, 1918.

To the State Librarian:

I herewith file in the State Library, without my approval, Assembly Bill number twenty-eight, for the reason that the slight change made by this bill does not seem to be necessary. The word "recklessly" has been added to the statute, apparently upon the supposition that this is necessary in order to secure conviction. I decline to believe that any court would construe the existing statutes to mean that the reckless driving of an automobile was not included in the inhibition against driving motor vehicles at any speed greater than is reasonable. Further, the present statute prohibits any person from driving a motor vehicle "so as to endanger the life or limb or to injure the property of any person," and this certainly means the same as "recklessly".

Respectfully,

WALTER E. EDGE,

Governor.

Assembly Bill No. 47, entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act concerning District Courts (Revision of 1898),' approved June fourteenth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-eight."

March 4th, 1918.

To the State Librarian:

I herewith file in the State Library, without my approval, Assembly Bill number forty-seven.

There seems to be merit in this bill, but I hesitate to sanction piecemeal legislation. This act, so far as I have been able to ascertain, applies to only one court, and it is intended to grant an additional salary of $250.00 because this court sits in two places within a judicial district.

The question of salaries of county employees has not yet been covered in the subject of home rule legislation. However, a year ago the Legislature applied home rule principles to salaries of municipal officers. There is no doubt but what it should likewise be applied to certain county officers, and thereby relieve the Legislature of enacting a law to meet every particular case in the State, no matter how isolated.

The subject matter of the bill under consideration can be handled very well when county salaries are made a part of home rule legislation, which, I believe, will be in the near future. In practically all of such cases local facts and circumstances have much to do with determining the merit of legislation, and local governing bodies which are obliged to budget the expenses incurred by increased compensation are in a far better position to determine the merit of these cases than is the State Legislature.

WALTER E. EDGE,
Governor.

Assembly Bill No. 61, entitled "An act concerning the salaries of assessors and collectors of taxes."

March 5th, 1918.

To the State Librarian:

I herewith file in the State Library, without my approval, Assembly Bill number sixty-one.

This bill is intended to give to governing bodies the power to increase the salaries of assessors and collectors of taxes to an amount not exceeding twenty-five per cent. of the present salaries, inasmuch as it is presumed additional labor will be imposed upon such assessors and collectors in view of the enactment of Assembly Bill number fifty-one.

I am obliged to withhold my approval from this bill for two reasons. First, if such an act is necessary, it should be made an amendment to Chapter 152 of the Laws of 1917, commonly known as the Home Rule Act, since it is most desirable to cover subjects relating to home rule of municipalities in one act and not by piecemeal legislation. Secondly, I am not prepared, in advance of further investigation based on actual experience as to the additional work devolving upon assessors and collectors by reason of changes in the tax system, to authorize a blanket increase of twenty-five per cent. in the salaries of every such official in every municipality in New Jersey.

It seems that we shall be in a better position to judge of the advisability of such a legislative provision a year from now, after there is definite knowledge of the additional work which new tax legislation will impose upon assessors and collectors.

Respectfully,

WALTER E. EDGE,

Governor.

March 4th, 1918.

To the State Librarian:

I herewith file in the State Library, without my approval, Assembly Bill number one hundred and fifty-one.

The purpose of this bill is to increase the salary of court criers in Bergen, Camden, Mercer, Middlesex and Union counties from $1,200.00 to $1,500.00. While I am prepared to admit that increases in salaries seem to be imperative in these trying times, if the duties are confined strictly to those of a court crier, I fail to see where $1,200.00 is not sufficient compensation.

Again, I anticipate that in the near future home rule legislation will be extended to the salaries of certain county officials and employees in the same manner that the home rule legislation of last year included certain municipal officers and employees, and in the meantime I hesitate to add to the statutes laws which may interfere with the application of the home rule principles after the authority is conferred.

I herewith file in the State Library, without my approval, Assembly Bill number one hundred and sixty-one, for the reason that I am informed by the Commission on Home Rule that

March 5th, 1918.

To the State Librarian:

I herewith file in the State Library, without my approval, Assembly Bill number one hundred and sixty-five.

This bill raises the salaries of the head gamekeeper and the superintendent of the Fish Hatchery from $1,500.00 to $1,900.00. I should have approved this bill if it had been passed as originally introduced, as I have no doubt that there is necessity for increasing salaries in order to retain the services of employees of this class and experience; but the difficulty is that the bill was amended in the Legislature so that the provisions vesting the authority in the State House Commission to fix the salaries of these two State employes was stricken out and the Legislature provided a statutory scale of salaries.

If the Fish and Game Commission will come to the Budget Commission and ask for necessary increases as do other departments, with the idea that the same is to be itemized in the Appropriations Bill, I would be in favor of granting the increase, but this method of fixing by statute the salaries of employes, I do not approve of as a general policy. In the case of the inspectors of various departments and wardens of the department I have approved of gradual increases based on length of service, but to extend this to other classes of employes in view of new standardization now to go into effect would be inadvisable. Through the appropriation method each year is considered on its own basis and according to the needs of the time. By separate statute, as here proposed, it is made for all time unless repealed, which seldom happens in the case of salaries.

WALTER E. EDGE,

March 5th, 1918.

To the State Librarian:

I herewith file in the State Library Assembly Bill number one hundred and sixty-six without my approval.

Considerable agitation has developed from commissioners of commissioned governed cities, requesting my approval of Assembly Bill 166, the main feature of which provides that in case of petitions for recall, which under the present law requires thirty per cent. of the electors, such recall election could be avoided if the commissioner affected secured a petition signed by thirty-one per cent. opposing the recall. On the face of it this provision seems to contain an element of fairness—at least it is very adroit.

I have considerable sympathy for a commissioner who after election is continually threatened with recall, if he does not meet the desires or demands of this or that faction, but, in my judgment, the method provided by Assembly 166 is not the proper one to correct this condition.

In the first place, a petition for recall containing more than thirty per cent. may be filed. It might even contain fifty-one per cent., which, of course, would be a majority of the electors. Then, under the terms of this act, the commissioner affected could thwart the desire of a majority of the people by filing a counter petition containing the names of only thirty-one per cent. or twenty per cent. less than contained on the petition for recall. The act would have been more defensible if it had provided that the commissioner affected and wishing to avoid recall should file a petition containing more signatures than on the petition for recall.

The entire procedure, however, savors of government by petition, and, in my judgment, is not sound. If the theory of a recall is a deterrent to free action on the part of commissioners, then the question of its soundness as a policy should be voted upon and decided in the Legislature on the square basis of yes or no, rather than by this method.

WALTER E. EDGE,
Governor.

Assembly Bill No. 178, entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act concerning tuberculosis,' approved March twenty-eighth, one thousand nine hundred and twelve,"

March 4th, 1918.

To the State Librarian:

I herewith file in the State Library, without my approval, Assembly Bill number one hundred and seventy-eight.

This bill provides for building a tuberculosis hospital outside of the county, and I understand it is advocated for Hudson county. Statistics have been brought to my attention, purporting to show that Hudson county has sent but fifty-three patients to the State Tuberculosis Sanatorium at Glen Gardner, in comparison to one hundred and fifty-three from Essex county. It is stated by the proponents of the measure that the reason for Hudson county not sending patients to Glen Gardner is that they are better satisfied to send them to the county institution at Laurel Hill. However, if at any time there should be more patients than could be properly taken care of at Laurel Hill, I cannot fail to take cognizance of the fact that Hudson county could send additional patients to Glen Gardner. Certainly no tuberculosis hospital should be built by Hudson county outside of the county limits until all of the county's quota of accommodations at Glen Gardner have been utilized.

Another reason for vetoing this measure is the fact that the provisions requiring the approval of the State Department of Health in case a board of freeholders desires to maintain more than one county hospital for this purpose is deliberately stricken out of the act of 1912. In my judgment, the State Department of Health should continue to have some jurisdiction in such cases.

Assembly Bill No. 184, entitled "An act to establish a nautical school in this State for the education and training of pupils from the several counties of this State in the science and practice of navigation, seamanship, steam and electrical engineering, and to provide for the maintenance and government of the same."

March 5th, 1918.

To the State Librarian:

I herewith file in the State Library, without my approval, Assembly Bill number one hundred and eighty-four.

Without passing upon the merits of this bill, sufficient reason for declining to approve it is found in the fact that no appropriation has been provided by the Legislature for carrying out the provisions of the act, nor would it be possible to finance the project out of the moneys of any other State department, since the measure does not provide for placing the undertaking under any State department now existing. If this bill were to become a law, expenses would be incurred simply by calling the commission together and yet there would be no possible way of meeting such obligations.

To the State Librarian:

It is my judgment that the subject matter of this bill is already covered by the Laws of 1913, page 358. The bill under consideration is intended, apparently, to go somewhat further than the Act of 1913, but in making this attempt the language seems to be somewhat unfortunate, and besides I take it that there is ample law to reach any deliberate misrepresentation that might result in fraudulent practices.

To the State Librarian:

I hereby file in the State Library, without my approval, Assembly Bill number two hundred and twenty-three.

I regret the necessity of taking this course, as the measure seems to have considerable merit, but no appropriation has been granted for the purposes of carrying out the provisions of the act, and, therefore, it would be inoperative and useless.

Assembly Bill No. 227, entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An act to promote home life for dependent children,' approved April ninth, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen,"

March 4th, 1918.

To the State Librarian:

I herewith file in the State Library, without my approval, Assembly Bill number two hundred and twenty-seven, chiefly for the reason that it creates the possibility of burdening a county with many additional wards without proper safeguards.

While the intent of the act is perfectly laudable, yet it is so drawn that I seriously question whether it would not encourage the shifting of responsibility on the part of relatives able to maintain such children.

The power placed in the Board of Children's Guardians seems to be questionable in so far as it places upon the board the responsibility of determining the financial ability and the moral character of relatives. It would seem to me that representative departments of a county or perhaps of cities within a county, inasmuch as the financial burden is to be upon the county, should have some voice in determining these questions. If representatives of the county and of the Board of Children's Guardians were to determine the exact facts of such cases jointly, I should be more inclined to regard the bill with favor.

Governor.

Assembly Bill No. 232, entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act for the construction, maintenance and operation of water works for the purpose of supplying cities, towns and villages of this State with water,' approved April twenty-first, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six."

March 5th, 1918.

To the State Librarian:

I herewith file in the State Library, without my approval, Assembly Bill number two hundred and thirty-two, for the reason that I do not believe it wise to alter the fundamental law of 1876, which provides for not less than five directors, or stockholders, a majority of whom shall be residents of the State. An amendment permitting all of the directors except one to be non-residents might be entirely proper for some specific case, but I doubt its wisdom as a general provision.

Assembly Bill No. 258, entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An amendment to an act entitled "An act for the assessment and collection of taxes," approved April eighth, one thousand nine hundred and three,' which amendment was approved April eighth, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen."

March 4th, 1918.

To the State Librarian:

I herewith file in the State Library, without my approval, Assembly Bill number two hundred and fifty-eight.

This bill merely adds to the classes of property and activities exempted from taxation under the law. I am opposed to the policy of extending these exemptions, every such exemption merely adding to the tax burdens of owners of other classes of property.

I appreciate the theory advanced for special exemption from taxation, but it seems to me that the tax burden should be assumed, even in the case of historical societies or like organizations, just like any other overhead expense.

The policy of special tax exemptions can be carried so far that it will amount to indefensible discrimination and an unfair distribution of public expenses.

March 4th, 1918.

To the State Librarian:

I herewith file in the State Library, without my approval, Assembly Bill number two hundred and seventy-two, for the reason that this bill should have been submitted as an amendment to the home rule legislation.

I am informed by the commission appointed on home rule that under the decisions of the courts this bill would be unconstitutional as drawn.

Assembly Bill No. 277, entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An act to regulate the practice of dentistry in the State of New Jersey, and to repeal certain acts now relating to the same,' approved March thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen."

March 4th, 1918.

To the State Librarian:

I herewith file in the State Library, without my approval, Assembly Bill number two hundred and seventy-seven, for the reason that this bill authorizes an expense which appears to me to be entirely unnecessary.

Infractions of the law as enforced by the State Board of Registration and Examination in Dentistry can be handled in the usual legal way without employing such agents. In addition, I would draw attention to Chapter 269 of the Laws of 1917, which seems to confer ample authority upon the dental and other similar boards to employ such means as may be necessary to secure evidence against offenders and institute prosecution. I refer to section 2 of Chapter 269, P. L. 1917, wherein it is stated that "Each of said boards * * * may retain in its treasury the sums heretofore or hereafter collected for annual registration or annual license fees and use the same for the purpose of defraying the expenses of securing evidence against and prosecuting persons violating the provisions of the acts of the Legislature, with the enforcement of which it is charged."

To approve such a bill would be to concede that every other examining board in the State is entitled to the same additional assistants and representation.

Assembly Bill No. 283, entitled "An act to provide for the removal of grass and weeds from lots in municipalities of this State."

March 4th, 1918.

To the State Librarian:

I herewith file with the State Librarian, without my approval, Assembly Bill number two hundred and eighty-three.

Municipalities already have the right, under general police powers, to compel owners to remove weeds or underbrush of any description from their property where the same may be deemed inimical to the public health. The purpose of the bill under consideration is to enable municipalities, if they so desire, to remove such weeds or underbrush on lots where the owner may be a nonresident, or for any other reason shall fail to obey the order of removal. There is a strong doubt concerning the implied inability of municipalities to pass ordinances intended to accomplish this identical purpose in statutes already existing.

However, whether or not this is the case, the bill under consideration is, in my judgment, too drastic in providing that the cost of removing grass and weeds, when done by the municipality, is made to constitute a first and paramount lien upon the property.

March 6th, 1918.

To the State Librarian:

I herewith file in the State Library, without my approval, Assembly Bill number two hundred and ninety.

This bill may contain a great deal that is meritorious, but I am frank to say that I am not sufficiently familiar with the subject nor in the limited time given to the Eexecutive for consideration of bills can I obtain the necessary professional knowledge to pass upon the bill intelligently. Letters and telegrams which have come to me within the past few days indicate very sharply divided opinion. A survey of my correspondence shows that osteopaths generally are in favor of the bill while others practicing drugless healing methods, chiropractors and others, are opposed to the bill. The legislative record on Assembly Bill number two hundred and ninety shows that while the bill was introduced in January, that it remained in committee until February twentieth and that it was finally passed in both Houses during the closing days of the session.

In view of the discussion which the bill has caused since passage and the many conflicting opinions reaching the Executive Department, I am strongly inclined to the belief that there was not sufficient public discussion on the bill which is of so much importance to certain professions, as to warrant my approval. Again, it was only a few years ago that this subject was thoroughly thrashed out and finally adjusted by placing an osteopath on the State Board of Medical Examiners: and because of this recent adjustment and in view of lack of information and absence of full public discussion on the points involved in the bill under consideration, I have concluded to withhold approval.

March 5th, 1918.

To the State Librarian:

I herewith file in the State Library, without my approval, Assembly Bill number two hundred and ninety-seven.

This bill is evidently an attempt to amend by statute paragraph 1, Article 2 of the State Constitution. Pardon or restoration of citizenship can be secured only by action of the Court of Pardons or a special act of the Legislature. If valid, this act would technically repeal the indeterminate sentence law by restoring the right of suffrage one year after the expiration of the minimum sentence, at which time nearly all prisoners are released.

I am inclined to believe it would also place persons, who are in prison for second or lesser degrees of murder, burglary, rape, kidnapping (which now carries as a maximum, life sentence), sodomy, etc., in the same class as those convicted of blasphemy, larceny above the value of six dollars, etc. Any person imprisoned a second time for a minor offense would be classed with a first degree murderer. Certainly, this bill ought not to be put upon the statute books.

Assembly Bill No. 302, entitled "An act to fix the allowance of sheriffs for victualling, care and keep of prisoners in the county jails of the respective counties of this State."

March 5th, 1918.

To the State Librarian:

I herewith file in the State Library, without my approval, Assembly Bill number three hundred and two, for the reason that I do not approve of sheriffs receiving a per diem allowance for the maintenance of prisoners in county jails. When the offices of sheriffs were placed on a salary basis it was with the distinct intent and understanding that the salaries paid were in lieu of all other fees and allowances whatsoever. The courts have so held and in most counties of the State the policy of handling the subject of maintenance of prisoners was long ago removed from the office of the sheriff and transferred to the board of freeholders, who are now either handling the matter by contract, or else passing upon bills contracted for this purpose by the sheriff, acting merely as a purchasing agent. If the per diem of fifteen cents still adhered to in any counties of the State is found insufficient, which I cannot doubt is the case, owing to the increased cost of food and supplies, there seems to be nothing to prevent such counties from adopting the method now employed in most counties of the State.

To the State Librarian:

I herewith file in the State Library, without my approval, Assembly Bill number three hundred and three, for the reason that the object of this bill was very properly covered in the Home Rule Act, if, indeed, prior legislation did not provide for it.

March 4th, 1918.

To the State Librarian:

I herewith file in the State Library, without my approval, Assembly Bill number three hundred and fourteen.

If the necessity for such a measure were demonstrated I should approve it, but it is admitted that the District Court Clerks in Monmouth county now receive $900.00 per year. The object of the bill, as explained to me, is to make certain that the salaries will not be reduced from $900.00 to $600.00, owing to doubt over the construction of past statutes, and at the same time give $100.00 increase. Since the governing body of Monmouth county is now paying $900.00 to these court clerks, I am not prepared to sign a bill merely on the supposition that the $900.00 salary will not be continued. March 5th, 1

To the State Librarian:

I herewith file in the State Library, without my app Assembly Bill number three hundred and fifty-two.

If it is unnecessary to go into the merits of this me which may or may not be good, for the reason that errors bill are so glaring as to make it impossible to know exactly the sponsors of the bill intended.

Section 1 of the bill under consideration purports to a section 2 of the Act of 1911, but the entire amendm omitted. Section 2 purports to amend section 3 of the A 1911, but proceeds, instead, to designate it with the figure '

The purpose of the bill may be praiseworthy, but I cannc my approval to placing upon the statute books a bill so in construction and so doubtful as to intent with refere an amendment of such an important statute as Chapter 1 the Laws of 1911.

One feature of the bill which I most emphatically d approve of is that authorizing assistant overseers and othe in all second class cities and towns over 20,000 inhabita the State. Such an opening for new officers by wholesal increased salary expenses is not warranted.

Assembly Bill No. 367, entitled "An act regarding exempt firemen of volunteer fire departments, volunteer fire engine, hook and ladder hose or supply companies, or salvage corps of the cities, towns, townships, boroughs and fire districts of this State,"

March 6th, 1918.

To the State Librarian:

I herewith file in the State Library, without my approval, Assembly Bill number three hundred and sixty-seven, for the reason that the construction of this bill is such as to cloud the purpose. I am quite certain that if the bill were approved it could have no effect whatsoever, and, therefore, it seems useless to add it to the statutes. The only change from the act of 1911 is to add the words "or may hereafter be". The effect of this is to make the statute to apply to those officeholders whose term of office is not now or may hereafter be fixed by law, which, I submit, is far from clear as to purpose.

There seems to have been no reason for an act designed to extend protection contemplated by the act of 1911 to those officeholders who have become exempt firemen since the passage of that act, for the act itself included persons holding office "who may hereafter be appointed in any such position". If the purpose of the bill was to extend the protection of the act of 1911 to officeholders whose terms of office may hereafter be fixed by law, I seriously question whether the construction of the bill under consideration would have this effect, even if that were the intent of the Legislature.

For these reasons I am filing the bill with the suggestion that whatever was intended to be accomplished should be incorporated at a future session in a bill whose language is clear and unmistakable.

March 4th, 1918.

To the State Librarian:

I herewith file in the State Library, without my approval, Assembly Bill number three hundred and sixty-eight, for the reason that I fail to see any real necessity for permitting certain cities to increase the number of commissioners of assessment of taxes to seven.

The object of the bill is to allow the city of Paterson to increase the number of its commissioners for the assessment of taxes from five to seven. Inasmuch as the city of Newark has but three of such commissioners, I cannot see where it is necessary for Paterson to have seven.

March 5, 1918.

To the State Librarian:

I herewith file in the State Library, without my approval, Assembly Bill number three hundred and seventy-three.

If this bill were merely retrospective I should approve it. However, it is drawn in such terms that it might be taken to apply not only to all evidence of indebtedness heretofore made or issued by a county governing body, but also to all evidences of indebtedness that might hereafter be made or issued by such governing body. I think a validating act of this questionable character is far too general in its terms to be safe. No doubt the intent of the act is to cover some specific case, and this can be taken care of another year in a bill more carefully drawn.

Assembly Bill No. 374, entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act concerning District Courts (Revision of 1898),' approved June fourteenth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-eight."

March 5th, 1918.

To the State Librarian:

I herewith file in the State Library, without my approval, Assembly Bill number three hundred and seventy-four, for two reasons.

First, the bill merely adds to any inequalities in the salaries of District Court clerks that may already exist. At the present time the salaries paid to such clerks in judicial districts between forty thousand and one hundred thousand inhabitants, is $1,000.00, while under this bill the $1,000.00 salary would likewise be extended to the clerks in those judicial districts between twenty-five thousand and forty thousand. I cannot see the fairness of allowing a $1,000.00 salary to the clerk of a judicial district with a population of twenty-five thousand and allowing the same salary to the clerk of a judicial district of one hundred thousand population.

Second, while I, of course, admit that the present salary of District Court clerks in judicial districts under forty thousand population of $600.00 is exceedingly small and that a man cannot subsist on a salary of $50.00 per month, yet I believe it is true that in judicial districts under forty thousand population the clerkship of a District Court is seldom, if ever, the sole responsibility or position of the incumbent.

Assembly Bill No. 412, entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act concerning municipalities,' approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, and constituting chapter one hundred and fifty-two of the Pamphlet Laws of one thousand nine hundred and seventeen."

March 5th, 1918.

To the State Librarian:

I herewith file in the State Library, without my approval, Assembly Bill number four hundred and twelve.

The intent of this measure is undoubtedly good, but the bill is hopelessly defective in construction. The act amended has many sections numbered seven, but the specific article in which section seven is amended is not specified.

Again, the statement of explanation appearing on original bills for the enlightenment of the Legislature has been inadvertently added to Assembly Bill number four hundred and twelve as if it were a part of the act.

I doubt if there is any confusion as between the Home Rule Act of 1917 and the Pierson Bond Act of the same year. The intent of the Legislature with reference to methods of municipal financing was clear, irrespective of any provisions of former statutes which may have been included in the Home Rule Act of the same session.

However, if it is necessary to correct the Home Rule Act, this can be done very easily next year with a bill which is correct as to form.

March 5th, 1918.

To the State Librarian:

I herewith file in the State Library, without my approval, Assembly Bill number four hundred and thirty-four.

This bill was undoubtedly conceived in a commendable spirit of co-operation and with the idea that it would facilitate the joint undertaking of the traffic tunnel under the Hudson and the traffic bridge over the Delaware. However, it seems to me unwise to ask various boards of freeholders to continue to finance the bridge and tunnel enterprises now that the latter have become State-wide projects and are looked upon generally as extensions of the State Highway System.

The purpose of the bill, while praiseworthy, is impracticable inasmuch as if one county governing body were to decline to authorize that its share of the remaining funds be appropriated to the new bridge and tunnel commission while other counties acquiesced in such action, there would exist clearly a discriminatory and unfair situation.

I believe that the balances remaining in the treasury of the former separate commissions on these undertakings should be turned back to the treasury of the respective counties which advanced the money.
